

NEED NEARLY 4 BILLION TO RUN U. S.

FIRST SUPPLY BILL IS LOWER BY 87 MILLION

Treasury and Postoffice Supply Bill Submitted to House by Committee
Tax Refund Allotment Reduced—Large Increase for Public Buildings

Washington—(AP)—The administration's efforts at economy were reflected today in the first of the big annual government supply bills.

The house received from its appropriation committee the bill for the treasury and post office, carrying $1,083,553,943 for the fiscal year 1932.

The outlay is $86,906,095 less than expenditures of $1,170,460,038 for the two departments in the current fiscal year, and $20,726,410 lower than budget estimates.

A reduction of $104,000,000 in the allotment for tax refunds largely is responsible for the savings, although there is an increase of $10,177,230 for public building construction.

For the first time since the prohibition bureau was created, this bill carried no funds for law enforcement. That agency was transferred to the justice department last July.

However, the measure provides $4,814,420 for the industrial alcohol bureau and $1,708,528 for the new narcotic bureau. Both formerly were connected with the prohibition bureau.

In its report, the appropriations committee pointed out it would cost an additional $475,580 next year to operate the industrial alcohol bureau while the increased expenses of the narcotics bureau amounted to $47,268.

INCREASE POSTAL FUND

The postoffice department received $541,803,917, an increase of $4,977,820 over this year but $7,040,140 less than the budget. The treasury was given $241,750,026 or $31,883,715 less than the budget and $13,686,370 less than budget estimates.

Outstanding among the postal appropriations was $20,000,000 for the domestic airmail service, an increase of $5,000,000 over the present year, and $36,000,000 for transportation of foreign mails, an increase of $7,100,000 due largely to air mail service to Latin America.

While reductions were made in operating expenses of the treasury, the permanent and indefinite outlays, which are made automatically by the treasury, increased to $1,075,359,939 as compared to $1,070,008,135 this year. Allotments under it provide $409,410,600 for the sinking fund, an increase of $17,258,400, and $581,000,000 for interest on the public debt, a decrease of $22,000,000. Among other outlays it sets aside $57,749,305 for foreign obligations, an increase of $9,503,805, and $13,000,000 for drawback bounties.

TREASURY PROJECTS

Under the treasury operating allotments a total of $87,924,450 was set aside for public buildings construction, of which a lump sum of $81,305,000 was granted for continuation of existing projects. No definite allotments of this sum were carried in the measure, the fund to be used as required by the treasury on the program the remainder is for miscellaneous expenses in connection with the work.

The internal revenue bureau was given $59,962,560, or $104,437,440 less than this year, due to anticipated decrease in tax refunds, and $12,154,140 less than budget estimates. Of the total $26,000,000 is set aside for tax refunds.

FISH NETTING HELPS SAVE YOUTH FROM LAKE

Kenosha—(AP)—Fish netting today came in for a share of the credit for saving Herman Freitag, Jr., 18, from drowning in Lake Michigan.

Freitag slipped from the deck of the fishing tug, Arbutus, seven miles off shore. A fish net hung overboard. He was able to grasp it. Fishermen hauled him aboard safely.

MELLON'S OFFICE COSTS

Secretary Mellon was given $6,371,444 which to run his office, while the bureau of the budget received $191,000, the treasurer of the United States $1,560,546, the bureau of engraving $6,700,000, the mint $1,608,100 and the American printing house for the blind $65,000.

The bill allotted the postoffice department headquarters here $4,386,755, with $3,499,312 for field service.

Among some of the larger appropriations for the general service were: $53,500,000 for postmasters; $190,000,000 for clerks; $120,000,000 for letter carriers; $107,550,000 for rural delivery; $127,000,000 for railroad routes and $87,000,000 for railway mail service. Star route service in Alaska was given $15,400,000.

2 Firemen Perish As Floor Falls

Three Others Seriously Injured by Falling Debris in Milwaukee

Milwaukee—(AP)—Smothered and crushed beneath debris as a floor of a burning building crashed last night two firemen were killed and three others suffered serious injury. The dead: Joseph Hintz, 27, and Gerald O'Brien, 28. The injured: Walter Toenhart, 32; Alfred Kietzke, 36, and William Lietzke, 41. The injured were all hurt about the chest and back.

Answering a three-alarm call from the H. Siegel building, which houses a burlap sack warehouse and factory, the five were trapped on the second floor as the third floor crashed, hurling blazing sacks and timber on them.

Other firemen rushed into the building and dragged Toenhart, Kietzke, and Lietzke to safety. For more than an hour, firemen worked with bare hands to tear debris from the pile under which Hintz and O'Brien were buried, but they were dead when found.

RIFT APPEARS IN CONGRESS HARMONY

Democrats Take Skeptical View Toward Hoover Employment Plan

Washington—(AP)—The much-talked-of harmony between the parties in congress over emergency relief legislation appeared today narrowed down one more notch.

So much skeptical comment on the part of Democratic leaders met President Hoover's recommendation for a $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 employment relief fund, that a contest along party lines on this issue was not impossible. The Republicans moved immediately for action, taking the larger figure in offering legislation.

It was not the idea of taking the money out of the treasury to benefit the unemployed that the Democrats criticized, but rather the president's suggestion that it be turned over for distribution to the government departments "upon recommendations of a committee of the cabinet and approval by the president."

They wanted to see where the money was going, they said, and until shown, were disposed to be "from Missouri."

"If he expects to get that much money he will have to show what he is going to do with it," was the observation of Democratic Floor Leader Garner of the house. Representative Byrns of Tennessee, ranking minority member of the house appropriations committee, was more emphatic in disapproval.

"Never before, outside of wartime, has a president asked such power," he said. Other Democrats joined their position.

CHARGE MAN GAVE FALSE INFORMATION

Defense Witness in Trial of Alleged Bank Robber Is Arrested

The arrest of Roy Winters, Iron Mountain, Mich., a defense witness, on charges of perjury featured the trial of W. P. Davis, Arkansas, in municipal court yesterday afternoon. Davis is charged with holding up the State bank at Nichols on Sept. 10.

Winters was ordered taken into custody by Judge Theodore Berg from the bench late Tuesday afternoon after District Attorney Stanley A. Staiff presented evidence indicating Winters may have made false statements from the witness stand.

The Iron Mountain man was one of the defense witnesses called Monday afternoon to aid in the attempt to establish an alibi for Davis on Sept. 10, the day the bank was robbed. Winters claimed he met Davis and Howard Ballard, also of Iron Mountain, in that city early on the afternoon of Sept. 10. He was positive of the date because he said Sept. 10 was his sons birthday, which helped him to fix the date in his mind.

Sheriff John Lappen went to Iron Mountain Tuesday morning and secured a certified copy of the birth record of Winters's son showing the birth was on Sept. 27. When he returned late in the afternoon Winters was recalled to the stand by Mr. Staiff, where he reiterated his previous testimony, claiming Sept. 10 was his son's birthday. He couldn't answer when Mr. Staiff presented the birth certificate.

The district attorney immediately demanded Winters' arrest and Judge Berg ordered the sheriff to take him into custody until a warrant could be issued. The warrant was being prepared Wednesday morning and Winters probably will be arraigned in municipal court this afternoon.

The defendant, Davis, occupied the witness stand during most of Tuesday afternoon's session. He refused to change the story, which he had related on direct examination during the morning, under cross examination at the afternoon session. He insisted he was in Iron Mountain the day of the robbery and that he had never been in Nichols in his life. He denied the story told by Frank Manasso, the state's star witness.

MARQUETTE STUDENT ARRESTED AS ROBBER

Milwaukee—(AP)—Robbery as an extra-curricular activity doesn't pay, according to James Maher, 23, Marquette university senior and fraternity man, held in jail here today.

Maher, whose father, a Menominee, Mich., policeman, is dead, was captured last night after an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Civic Center restaurant. He told police it was his fourth "job" and the only one that failed. His mother, Maher said, was poor and he needed additional money to continue his studies.

Maher walked into the restaurant, police said, ordered a meal, ate it, and when he walked to the cashier as if to pay his check, pointed a gun at her instead.

"Open the cash register," he said, "and hand over the cash."

A waitress, Alice Becker, screamed and Maher fled. The screams attracted Patrolman Arthur Bratz who chased Maher and apprehended him.

COAST GUARD SAVED 6,004 DURING YEAR

Sets All Time Record in Life-Preservation, Commandant Reports

Washington—(AP)—The coast guard made an all-time record in life-saving last year. The number of persons it rescued was 6,004.

The usefulness of the coast guard "to those who go down to the sea in ships is steadily and rapidly increasing," Commandant Billard told the appropriations committee in hearings on the treasury supply bill reported to the house today. The bill recommended an appropriation of $29,897,582 for the service in the next fiscal year, an increase over the current appropriation of $195,000, and a $413,000 drop below budget estimates.

20,000 DOUKHOBORS MAY SETTLE IN MEXICO

Nelson, B. C.—(AP)—J. P. Shukin, an official of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, said today that negotiations with the Mexican government for the settlement of 20,000 members of the sect there were in behalf of Doukhorobors in Russia.

Dispatches from Mexico City said Peter Verigen, head of the brotherhood, was seeking the assistance of the Mexican government to provide land for a group from Canada. Shukin said the Doukhorobors in Alberta, British Columbia and Saskatchewan were not affected. He said 20,000 members of the sect still in Russia were living in great hardship, and that thus far the Soviet government has denied them permission to migrate.

REICH HEARS DECREE FOR FINANCES CUT

Rigid Economy Needed to See Germany Through Difficulties, Is Plea

Berlin—(AP)—The Reichstag session opened this afternoon to consider Chancellor Brüning's decree of drastic financial reform.

The session began at 3 o'clock on the dot (8 o'clock a. m. Appleton time) with a crowded gallery of spectators. This session, the first since the Reichstag was adjourned last October, was expected to produce developments of tremendous importance in connection with the financial reform.

The Brüning cabinet appeared confident that the opposition could not muster enough votes to reject the chancellor's decree, but it was assumed that if there should be a rejection Brüning would dissolve the parliament and call for a new election.

Herrmann Dietrich, the minister of finance, began the business with presentation of the national budget, pointing out that he was introducing it much earlier than usual this year because "we must get ourselves out of the state of uncertainty into which we have been plunged during the past year."

Dietrich said Germany would cut her annual expenditures by $345,000,000.

"We must cut deeply into every department which costs us money," he said, "and not one department of the government will escape."

This goes not only for the national government but for every state and commune.

"Expenditures provided for in the ordinary budget," said Herr Dietrich, "have been reduced by 1,152,000,000 marks (about $265,190,000) and in the extraordinary budget by 272,000,000 marks ($60,500,000). This result can be achieved only by a series of measures contained in the emergency decree just published, especially those reducing civil service salaries and continuing services of income already made available through the decrees of last summer."

The budget, he said, also had been reduced by slashing appropriations turned over to the state, and by placing unemployment insurance on a self-supporting basis.

PROTESTS AGAINST GUARD

Just before he started to speak, and a moment after the members had taken their seats, Ernest Torgler, the Communist leader, rose from his place and surveyed the crowded galleries, with police stationed at intervals.

"Coming into this house," he cried, "is like being led into a fortress." Then on behalf of his party he demanded a vote on withdrawal of the police. His motion did not get unanimous consent, however, and accordingly was postponed.

The financial minister, launching into details of the financial proposals, asserted that despite all efforts at rigid economy the first draft of the budget still showed a deficit of 167,000,000 marks. The government, he said, consistently tried to avoid placing additional burdens on production, and, casting about for some unessential article as a source of tax revenue, hit upon tobacco and determined that an additional levy would be placed on cigars and cigarettes.

Dietrich spoke for an hour. The burden of his speech was that Germany must resign herself to a life of Spartan simplicity until she is out of her difficulties.

ASK COAST GUARD TO SEEK MISSING VESSEL

Cleveland—(AP)—The Salvage association requested the coast guard here today to search for the freighter Usona of the F. D. Gleason Coal company, Detroit, which left Detroit Friday bound for Fairport, Ohio.

Soviet Conspiracy Case Expected To End Friday

Moscow—(AP)—The special tribunal in the house of columns today at noon closed its doors to the curious and proceeded to question eight Soviet engineers who are being tried on charges of plotting overthrow of the Moscow government.

Particularly prominent in the private questioning, it was known, is the name of Raymond Poincare, former president of France, and France itself. Also mentioned were "K," "A," and "R," alleged French agents at Moscow.

The closing session of the court will convene Friday at 5 o'clock p. m. Speeches will be made by both prosecutor and the two defense counselors and sentence probably will be passed before the weekend.

Numerous organizations throughout Russia are demanding death for the accused.

Two witnesses were taken out of jail to testify before the public session was adjourned. They were Peter Kirpotenko, of the textile planning department, and Peter Tsailier, of the irrigation department. Both have been awaiting trial on counter-revolutionary charges.

They told about sabotage in their departments and brought in certain matters to which the eight defendants have not referred in their confessions.

Three of the eight, including Leonid Ramsin, came back under the fire of Kirilenko, the prosecutor, who wanted to know why they hadn't told about these things before. Ramsin said he had told so many things, and left so many things untold because there wasn't time to tell them, that he had probably forgotten these matters.

At the Donetz mine conspiracy trial two years ago it took Kirilenko a full day to complete his summary. It was likely that he would need just as much time at this trial.

Show Pictures Of Ground Glass In Girl's Stomach

Court Room Darkened to Permit Projection Machine to Act as Witness

Denver—(AP)—The court room was darkened and a projection machine used at the trial of Pearl O'Loughlin here today to demonstrate the presence of ground glass in the viscera of Leona O'Loughlin.

Pearl O'Loughlin is charged with slaying Leona, her ten-year-old step-daughter, last Oct. 14.

Microscopic photographs, taken at the autopsy, pictured to the jury what Dr. Frances McConnell, city toxicologist, said were numerous particles of ground glass.

Dr. McConnell's testimony, the state indicated, will stand as the last wedge in the scientific evidence from which the prosecution will endeavor to show there was a plot against the lives of Leona O'Loughlin and her father, Leo, a city detective.

Ralph Cummings, deputy prosecutor, said Leo O'Loughlin would probably be placed on the stand as a witness against his wife sometime late today.

A vital containing part of the class, alleged to have been removed from Leona's stomach, was introduced and identified by Dr. McConnell, who said about one and one half teaspoonful were present in the food and stomach wall.

PREACHER BRINGS HELP TO 35 ON WRECKED SHIP

Holyhead, England—(AP)—Thirty-five men of the Norwegian steamer Asmund today could thank for their lives the keen eyes of a clergyman and a woman parishioner with whom he was walking along the coast yesterday.

The Rev. H. H. Jones and his parishioner were strolling near the wave line when, through a dense fog over the Irish channel, he happened to see the Asmund go on the rocks. He ran half a mile to the nearest telephone and reported the accident to the Holyhead coast guard station.

Rockets were sent up to reassure the men aboard the boat and life-saving equipment was taken to the scene. Three of the crew were pulled ashore by life-lines and the others in a life-boat. In all 35 men were saved from what appeared to be certain break-up of the vessel and their probable death by drowning.

The Asmund was bound for Manchester from Novorossiysk. She struck the rocks at high tide. The lowering water settled her there and made release extremely difficult.

CHEESEMAKERS' BODY MAY LAUNCH OWN QUIZ

Milwaukee—(AP)—O. R. Schwantz, secretary of the Wisconsin Cheesemakers' association in convention here today said that if the results of an investigation launched by the state department of agriculture and markets into alleged price-fixing by the Plymouth cheese board were "unsatisfactory," the association plans to start its own probe.

"Some members on their own initiative," he said, "protested to the state agricultural department about the alleged tampering with state cheese prices by the Plymouth board. If the state's investigation does not clear up the situation, the association will undertake its own investigation."

BRITISH PROTEST RED ADDRESS OVER RADIO

London—(AP)—The British government will send a formal protest to Moscow against a radio speech broadcast from the Soviet capital last night, Arthur Henderson, the foreign secretary, today informed the house of commons.

CONFEREES DISAGREE ON MUSCLE SHOALS BILL

Washington—(AP)—House and senate conferees on Muscle Shoals legislation virtually agreed today to report a disagreement and send the senate bill for government operation to the house for a vote.

The senate conferees rejected all proposals by the house delegation to compromise between the senate and the house bills, the later of which calls for private operation.

Chairman McNary of the senate conferees, proposed the conference report a disagreement. He said the three house members present agreed to the proposal tentatively but did not want to agree finally until they could confer with their two missing colleagues.

NO TAX SLASH FOR THIS YEAR, HOOVER WARNS

Treasury Deficit of $180,000,000 in Prospect, Budget Message Shows WON'T IGNORE DEBTS

President Not Perturbed Over "Moderate Deficit for Current Year"

Washington—(AP)—President Hoover opposed continuance of reduced income taxes today in recommending to congress a $3,332,812,000 budget for the next fiscal year.

Reiterating the prediction of a $180,000,000 deficit this year, he warned that appropriations looking beyond action in the next six months to alleviate unemployment, and drought difficulties would result in another deficit in 1932.

The house went to work on the treasury-postoffice supply bill immediately after the budget was received.

As to taxes, cut 1 per cent on 1929 incomes, he said the outlook "for a decrease in probable income and the necessity to increase public works and aid to employment does not warrant continuation of the reduction."

The president likewise opposed attempts to meet the impending deficit by reduction of the statutory redemption of the public debt, now amounting to $440,000,000 per annum. He continued:

"Nor do I look with concern upon this moderate deficit for the current fiscal year, which, in fact, amounts to less than 5 per cent of the total government expenditure. The adverse balance can be met by reducing a general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury."

"When we recollect that our budget has yielded large surpluses for the last 10 years, which have enabled us to retire the public debt, in addition to retirement of nearly $3,500,000,000, we can confidently look forward to the restoration of such surpluses with general recovery of the economic situation, and thus the absorption of any temporary borrowing that may be necessary."

"It will probably be necessary for congress to appropriate additional money for expenditure within the present fiscal year in order to insure employment and to provide for the drought situation. . . . While this will operate to increase the amount of the deficit at the end of the year, I believe such increase can be accommodated by the methods indicated. On the other hand, no appropriations should be made for such purposes which look beyond such action as will ameliorate the immediate situation during the next six months."

"I realize that, naturally, there will be before the congress this session many legislative matters involving additions to our estimated expenditures for 1932, and the plea of unemployment will be advanced as reasons for many new ventures, but no reasonable view of the outlook warrants such pleas as apply to expenditures in the 1932 budget. I have full faith that in acting upon these matters the congress will give due consideration to our financial outlook. I am satisfied that in the absence of further legislation imposing any considerable burden upon our 1932 finances we can close that year with a balanced budget."

"When we stop to consider that we are progressively amortizing our public debt, and that a balanced budget is being presented for 1932, even after drastic writing down of expected revenue, I believe it will be agreed that our government finances are in a sound condition."

The president estimated that in 1932 total receipts, exclusive of the postal revenue, would reach $4,855,119,000 and total expenditures $4,054,519,000. For the present year, he estimated receipts at $3,334,855,000 and expenditures at $4,014,941,000.

Referring to the $220,000,000 public building program, the president said 535 projects have been authorized in a sound fiscal year. He estimated that the total actual expenditures on the program to last October amounted to $77,037,625, and another $56,000,000 is scheduled to be spent during the next eight months. The budget called for a total of $60,000,000 for this item during 1932. In addition to this, $16,500,000 will be left from the current year, making a total of $76,500,000 available next year.

The estimates for national defense called for a total of $689,994,000.

Nye Reports $272,312 Additional Fund In Davis Race

CLAIMS QUIZ SHOWS TOTAL OF $641,274

New Pennsylvania Senator Introduces First Measure in Upper House

Washington—(AP)—Senator Davis of Pennsylvania, introduced his bill today and it showed the influence of the years he spent as secretary of labor. It was a measure to empower the government to fix the wage to be paid laborers and mechanics employed on public buildings by contractors and sub-contractors.

Davis said it was to maintain the local wage scale and to promote employment of local workmen rather than the transfer of laborers and mechanics from other communities.

Washington—(AP)—Chairman Nye of the senate campaign funds committee said today his committee had uncovered expenditures of $272,312 for the Davis-Brown primary ticket in Pennsylvania over the $383,962 reported to the committee last May.

Nye also read from records showing more than 25 county campaign treasurers had made no reports of campaign expenses. He pointed out, however, that under the state law they are not required to report unless $50 or more was spent.

At the outset of today's session of the senate, Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, said without comment the resolution adopted by the senate, seating Senator Newberry, of Michigan, eight years ago with "severe condemnation" for the expenditures of $185,000 in his campaign.

Nye read the total of $641,274 expenditures in concluding a session of his committee to deliver further in reports of discrepancies in the accounting of campaign funds spent for the ticket headed by Senator Davis and Francis Shunk Brown, gubernatorial candidate.

A total of $18,500, he said, represented funds reported by campaign treasurers as having been received from the Davis-Brown committee headed by Samuel Vauldun, but for which no accounting had been made by the latter in reports either to the secretary of state for Pennsylvania or the Nye committee.

Another Dry Leader Balks At Backing For Referendum

Washington—(AP)—Still more opposition was recorded today against the proposal for a dry-supported national referendum on the eighth amendment.

Expressions against the idea came from Ernest H. Cherrington, secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, who contended if such a poll were held all 19 amendments should be passed upon by the people. The prohibition amendment, he predicted, would survive the test, but not so much of the others.

Cherrington's statement was issued on the eve of the get-together projected by the house wet bloc, which today planned to solidify its

TIPICA ORCHESTRA OF MEXICO PLAYS HERE NEXT FRIDAY

Organization Will Offer Variety of Musical Novelties

Musical novelties which put exotic Russians and Hawaiian troubadours in the shade will be presented in Appleton Friday by the Tipica orchestra of Mexico, which appeared at Memorial chapel in the afternoon and evening as the third number of the Community Art series.

The typical "charro" costume known the world over, the tall sombrero, the beautifully embroidered bolero jacket, the skin tight trousers with their dollar-like buttons, the vivid sash, and the brilliant hued serape or shawl thrown over the shoulders will be garbed, will bring to mind the lure of the republic south of the Rio Grande.

- Part I

2. "Gavota" M. M. Ponce

STATE BANK WILL SPEND $65,000 TO IMPROVE BUILDING

Institution to Install New Vault at Cost of About $30,000

Approximately $65,000 is being invested in improvement in the Appleton State bank building, including the installation of a large new vault costing $30,000. The vault is one of the largest in this section of the state and is guarded by a huge door costing $18,000, manufactured by E. A. Strauss Co., Chicago.

Remodeling plans for the interior of the bank include a rearrangement of cages. Additional space for employees will be made available by removal of the present vault, which will be replaced by the new vault in an addition to the rear of the bank building.

Some slight changes are to be made in the front of the bank. The front will be extended to include the quarters now occupied by the Cozy Barber shop and the Downer Drug Co.

The barber shop will remain in its present quarters, but the Downer Drug Co. store will be taken over by the Outagamie Loan and Title Co. after the drug company moves to the new Irving Zuehlke building. The loan and title company now occupies office space on the second floor. The new portion of the front will be of Bedford stone to conform with the present bank front.

VAULT FACES LOBBY
The new vault will face a lobby approximately 500 feet long flanked by five new teller cages along the west side. The bookkeepers' quarters, a book vault, and ante-rooms will be back of the cages, extending to the rear of the building and west of the vault.

The vault will be 18 feet wide by 24 feet long and will include safety deposit boxes, a cash compartment and a securities and trust department. The immense York steel door will be 18 inches thick and 89 inches in diameter.

A narrow vault lobby in front of the vault will serve as a runway to six patrons. A bullet-proof steel and glass partition will separate the main lobby and the vault entrance. Entrance to the bank will provide a spacious corridor from which a stairs will ascend to the second floor, and another will lead to the basement. New brass doors will be installed in the front entrance.

The basement also will be remodeled to include a large meeting room for the public, and another book and record vault.

The consultation rooms will remain along the west wall, with some slight changes. The directors' room will be adjacent to the officers' quarters. Both the directors' and

DISPOSAL OF HUGE ALFALFA SEED CROP CONSIDERED AT MEET

County Agents Advance Several Suggestions for Selling Excess

Gus Sell, county agent, attended a district meeting of county agents at Fond du Lac early this week at which alfalfa seed problems were thoroughly aired. There were county agents present from nine counties. R. A. Amundson, assistant state farm agent and formerly Outagamie county agent, was in charge of the meeting. Talks were given by Professor L. F. Gruber and C. J. Chapman of the state department of agriculture.

An especially vital problem exists in the alfalfa seed situation in the eastern section of the state, it was brought out. Hundreds of farmers had exceptionally good luck in raising alfalfa seed last year and the market seems to be flooded with seed, the agents said.

The agents discussed three possible solutions for lowering the crop which farmers now have on hand. These were: first, each farmer should keep a two or three year supply of seed; second, seed should be sold on affidavits through dealers to farmers outside the state; and third, seed should be disposed of in local communities.

A plan whereby farmers having from 10 to 50 bushels of seed could register the amount with the county agent was discussed. Mr. Sell is urging farmers of Outagamie who have this much seed to register it with him. In this way the agents can aid in finding a market for the to provide the $64,000 needed to wipe out all debts.

Last of the city's bonds, which could have run until 1950, will be paid off by Nov. 15. Next year, according to the mayor, John W. McCarty, the tax rate will probably be 56 cents, just half of what it is now.

A clause in the bond issue, made 15 years ago after a bitter fight to stop a move to abandon the municipal plant, will enable the city to retire its indebtedness ahead of time. The outstanding bills are approximately $57,000 due on the plant, and $7,000 due on the city hall.

The clause provided that all interest on bonds issued after 1915 should be paid to retire them, thus forcing their cancellation. The interest rate is 6 per cent.

The city also owns its own street railway system, power for which is obtained from the municipal electric plant.

Behind the city's successful management, it is said, is perfect cooperation between the city council and Mayor McCarty, who is now serving his fifth term of four years.

SHEPARD HINTS AT LINE OF DEFENSE IN MURDER TRIAL

Wife Used Poisonous Antiseptic and Talked About Death, He Claims

Kansas City, Kas. — (AP) — Possible lines of defense were indicated in a statement by Major Charles A. Shepard issued an advance of his trial tomorrow on a charge of murdering his second wife by administering poison.

The 39-year-old army physician's statement asserted his innocence and recalled that Mrs. Shepard in an effort to save infected teeth had used excessively an antiseptic containing arsenic. It asserted too that Mrs. Shepard often suggested death as a means of escaping intense melancholia.

Mrs. Shepard died at Ft. Riley in June, 1929. Some months later an autopsy was conducted, and Shepard was indicted on a federal warrant charging first degree murder.

In his statement, amplified by interviews with reporters yesterday, Major Shepard told of becoming engaged five months after his wife's death to Miss Grace Brandon, pretty 22-year-old stenographer of San Antonio, Texas, who is among the government's witnesses.

He met the girl, he said, while stationed at San Antonio in 1928. The major told of giving the young woman several presents, among them a motor car.

Asked in an interview if he had seen Miss Brandon since his arrest, Major Shepard replied: "Not until we assembled here for this trial. I passed her the other day in the lobby. She smiled and turned away. She was accompanied by investigators for the government.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DIES AT FOND DU LAC

Fond du Lac — (AP) — The old member of the G. A. R. in Fond du Lac, W. H. Chappin, 99, died at a hospital here Tuesday. He was stricken a few days after the American legion tendered him a public reception Nov. 7, celebrating his last birthday.

"It appears," he continued, "that before taking the stand against me she would have waited until I was exonerated or convicted."

Miss Brandon, he said, might have feared she would be held as an accessory.

DISPLAY PHOTOGRAPH

In making Major Shepard's version of charges against him defense counsel displayed a photograph of the stenographer, declaring she had presented it to Major Shepard. It is inscribed, "with much love to my sweetheart, from Grace."

Major Shepard pictured his wife, formerly a nurse in his private sanatorium at Sierra Madre, Calif., as a secret drinker who fished whiskey from his army physician's kit, in which were poisonous antiseptics.

His statement said Mrs. Shepard "had been at that satchel that night when she became ill." He recalled and named numerous physicians who treated Mrs. Shepard at different times when she was ill.

The trial, originally docketed for Tuesday, was continued awaiting arrival of Major Paul R. Hawley, government witness, who treated Mrs. Shepard at the time of her death.

The army officer's first wife was Clara Childs, Lewiston, N. Y., who died in 1913.

Jabot Revers

BY ANNEBELLE WORTHINGTON
When you study this smart model, you'll see it's really very slenderizing.

It's full of charm and so thoroughly wearable. To be certain, it has the best known slimming feature—the deep V-front that reaches to the waistline. Then there's the softly falling jabot revers that detract so beautifully from breadth.

The hip yoke of the circular skirt is the smartest depth to give the matronly figure slenderness.

There are many lovely materials that adapt themselves admirably to this model. Black canton crepe with white as sketch is extremely chic.

Creme marocain, crepe woolen and velvet are ideal selections.

Style No. 2859 may be had in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

CORRINE propped her cheeks in both palms, and put her elbows on the table, ignoring the lead fruit in front of her, as she talked. She looked more like a youngster, sitting in her mother's place at the table, in her absence than like the mistress of the dining room, Sarah reflected.

Life did such strange things, her pantomime of thoughts ran on. It took gay creatures like Corrine, whose short unruly black curls and questioning eyes were too young for problems, and gave them husbands like Harry Becker who had family wealth and prestige. It took girls like the one who had come to her, seeking aid . . . even now she didn't know her name . . . and made them love one man until they gave up everything for that man . . . love, honor, pride. Threw them into a scrap heap and made a flaming bonfire. And it took other girls, handed them surprise packets, and when they were almost unwrapped, removed them with a laughing touch.

"Harry is thoroughly provoked with me again," Corrine couldn't keep the dumplings from drifting in and out of her cheeks while she talked, but her eyes were sober. "I've done two dreadful things, it seems."

Glad to have her mind removed from her own problems, Sarah settled down to listen carefully.

"You've heard of Bob, haven't you? He was the cupid on my Valentine last year. Bob and I grew up together and I've written him themes while he did my algebra. We used to be a great help to each other. And we had an idea that we could be of assistance to each other permanently . . . until Harry came along."

"Then that changed everything. I didn't want to marry Bob. He's an infant. He had to grow up first. He's 19, though. He paid too much attention to football and me and not enough to Latin and the faculty. Anyway, I asked him to come to tea the other afternoon and bring along the gang. I didn't really think there would be a gang. I thought he'd come alone . . . jump at the chance."

She sighed and shook her head as she gazed into the wintry dusk. "Then she brought her eyes back to Sarah, who was gazing longingly at the creamed chicken and toast on her plate."

"Go on and eat. I'd rather talk. As a hostess I'm very conversational. You never can tell about men, not even the ones who have cooperated with you in fooling the faculty. Bob came, and he brought a dozen other fellows with him. They thought they'd have a good time. Well, they did. I ordered more food and acted as though I'd expected the whole United States Navy. They didn't need to think I was disappointed."

"I missed every one of them, too. I thought they had a right to be affectionate with the bride since they hadn't attended the wedding. And then we had some music . . . the radio was coming in good . . . and I did a new dance for them, one I learned down south."

Now Corrine's eyes were all alight with gypsy magic and her dumplings flashed in earnest.

"We pushed back the furniture, rolled back the rugs, and the gang grouped themselves around . . . on the floor, the top of the piano, any place at all. Three or four more of them had driven in. The party was turning out grand . . . I didn't care that Bob wouldn't come alone. I was playing up to the rest and I could see that though the boy had lost he hadn't forgotten. Two or three of them were clapping their hands to keep time, and I was getting some remarks from the gallery when . . . I looked up and there stood Harry!"

NEXT: Corrine continues her story. (Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

NATIONAL HEAD OF SORORITY IS FETED IN CITY

Mrs. Joseph Halstead, Evanston, Ill., national president of Delta Gamma, national society sorority, is visiting the local chapter this week. Mrs. Halstead, who has never visited Appleton before, is coming here on a friendly visit to meet the members of the chapter.

Mrs. Halstead was entertained by actives, pledges and local alumni at a formal dinner at Conway hotel last night. The activities and projects of the local chapter for the last few years were outlined.

My Neighbor Says--

If sirup is not boiled long enough or too long, boiled frosting will be a failure. Do not pour the sirup over egg whites while it is still boiling. Beat frosting until quite stiff.

Cyclamens should be kept in a cool room. They thrive best where there is not too much heat.

A little salt added to dried apples or apricots when cooking greatly improves the flavor.

When baking juicy pies put a layer of fine bread crumbs over the lower crust before putting in the fruit.

Keep the pantry well stocked during the winter months. If weather conditions prevent the grocer or butcher reaching your house you will have no difficulty in preparing a meal if you have on your pantry shelves food in cans and packages.

To remove soil and dust from lilted ceilings, first sweep with new broom, then cover broom with a soft cloth, go over ceiling again and it will be perfectly clean.

WE WOMEN

MINERVA'S MIRROR

There is a widespread disposition to exaggerate the efficiency with which animals adjust themselves to their jungle environments.

Not even Tarzan, who was half man and half ape, could speak with any authority about that. . . . Complete knowledge of the jungle is still and always will be inaccessible to the human mind.

Love is a contract, which maintains its true validity not in court, but in the hearts of those who have undertaken to fulfill its obligations.

There is a home for old actors and actresses where the unfortunate inhabitants are not permitted the solace of smoking. . . . Where there is genuine charity there should be smoke.

Good looks are transient. An attractive personality is limited only by the span of life itself and does not have to be powdered, rouged or even have its face lifted.

A broad-minded person is sometimes a narrow-minded person who is broad-minded about everything except his or her own narrow mind-ness.

A man who tries to think of two or more women at the same time is incapable of thinking effectively about himself—or either of the women.

Even if a bee should alight on your cheek, it would not (I am told) sting you unless you disturbed it. . . . But does the bee know that? Be Yourself!

It is, perhaps, a paradox of modern life that man had to invent the talkies to prevent women from talking while at the movies.

Nature is kind only to those who recognize the kindly intent of Nature.

A woman who depends only upon her looks had better—look out!

Our Children

BUILDING A HOME

Building a home is an unending task. It is not a place one can call his own, a place one has built out of his dreams and the labor of his hands, where the children can be borne and reared, is a cherished vision in the mind of the very least of us.

Cities do not offer as good homes for children as the country does. The noise, the crowding, the dirt, the tragic lack of play space, the absence of the beauties of nature, rob the city of any charm for childhood. The country is better.

There was a day when living in the country meant crucifying labor. Every drop of water had to be carried into the house and out again. Winter cold gripped the very cookies of the heart and the blistering summer sun dried them up. The roads were poor and their dirt choked the gardens. Doctors were far away and slow to come. Supplies were hard to get. Friends were at a distance. Schools were few and poor. The city offered better opportunities for comfortable healthy living.

That time is passing. Young people do not have to face that sort of life now should they choose to live in the open. Houses are built for convenience. Electricity lightens all labor. Plumbing, sanitation that assures health and comfort to the family is a matter of course. The telephone and the radio and the airplane and the family car have made the village and the farm as easy to live in as any city flat. And far more suited to rearing children.

Teachers and doctors and nurses are close to the schools and home of the village today. Schools are better. The classes are, or ought to be small. The teacher has a chance to know the personalities of the children and to help the growth of each one. Best of all, the children have a chance to play in safety in the open air, under a clear sky, in pure sweet air. That alone is worth any sacrifice of lifts and dumbwaiters and steam and a palatial lobby presided over by buttons and frigidly.

The number of little children killed on the streets of the city is appalling. I shudder to think of that number and the tragedy it records. Any effort to safeguard the children is made imperative and justifiable. Any effort to house young people starting a home ought to be applauded and added to the utmost.

I am hoping that some day the mothers clubs will make this housing a subject of a crusade and keep at it until the country is dotted all over its broad face with garden communities that provide a setting and a safeguard for the children. Sunny-side in Long Island, Radburne in New Jersey, are fine beginnings. Who is going to start one in the next state, and the next?

It is not possible to the rear children in safety in a big city. It is not possible to give the children the breadth of experience, the taste of freedom and beauty that nature craves, in the congestion of the city. It is idle to prod teachers and social workers to improve children's social standards so long as children are forced to live under anti-social conditions. Housing is the first step toward enlightened, happy citizenship. Whose cause shall it be? (Copyright, 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

BISHOP SENDS WRISTONS SET OF RARE DISHES

A set of dishes picturing the buildings of Harvard University campus has been received by Dr. and Mrs. Henry M. Wriston as a gift from Bishop William Lawrence.

The Harvard dishes are copies by Wedgwood of an old set unearthed some time ago on the Harvard campus. The story goes that President Lowell, while looking out of the window of his office one day watching the excavations for a new building, noticed the workmen throwing aside small bits of stone. Their peculiar shape attracted his attention. Upon examination he found that they were broken dishes. Enough of the pieces were assembled to make it possible for the art museum to identify the felix as the remains of the dishes first used in the Harvard common picturing the views of the old campus.

Other copies are now being made by Wedgwood and being sold for the benefit of Harvard University.

ROAST BURNS IN OVEN, CALL FIRE DEPARTMENT

The fire department was called to the residence of Mrs. J. Kobussen, 319 N. Appleton-st, about 5:30 Tuesday afternoon when a roast in the oven of the heater burned and fuled the kitchen with smoke. This led occupants of the home to believe the house was afire. No damage resulted—except to the roast.

Davis Granted Seat in Senate

James J. Davis of Pennsylvania gained his seat in the senate Tuesday over a protest from the campaign funds investigating committee. Chairman Nye to deny the oath to Senator Gerald P. A motion by Chairman Nye to deny the oath to Davis was rejected 58 to 27.

APPLETON MAY EMPLOY REVALUATION TYPIST

A letter from the Wisconsin tax commission Tuesday morning gave the city permission to employ clerical help in the revaluation of Appleton. The typist is to be hired by the council at a salary approved by the tax commission.

It was pointed out by L. J. Rhein of the tax commission, who is doing the preliminary work in the revaluation of Appleton, that a great deal of the clerical work could be done by a typist and thus save time when the revaluation force starts work after the first of the year. Mr. Rhein intended to apply to the commission for clerical help, but Mayor John Goodland, Jr., pointed out that Appleton has a number of typists out of employment and that if permission could be obtained from the tax commission, it would be better to hire a local person.

Uncle Sam Won't Ignore Job As Great Employer

Washington — (AP) — One of the largest employers of the nation is not going to cut salaries for the new year. Today the manager of the business made provision for continuing at work all its employees for another 12 months.

The employer is the United States and President Hoover as the executive in charge asked congress to appropriate $110,654,718 to pay the salaries of 51,261 employees in 1931. The amount was an increase of $1,000,000 over the salaries paid during the present year. The average salary of the thousands of employees in government service is $2,108, an increase of $1 over the present year and of $81 over the 1929 fiscal year. The board of mediation had the highest average of any division of the government, its 23 employees getting an average of $4,891 a year. The Federal Power commission's 52 employees average $4,104, while the 37 employees of the executive offices receive an average of $3,438. The treasury department had the largest number of employees with a total of 11,391 who receive an average of $2,098. The department of agriculture ranked second in number with 5,479 who receive an average of $2,372. The veterans bureau was third with 5,096 employees who average $2,073 a year and department of commerce fourth with 4,655 at an average salary of 2,377.

REVIVALIST WILL CONDUCT CAMPAIGN AT ARMY QUARTERS

General Public Is Invited to Evangelistic Services in City

Commandant Abraham Tilley, nationally known revivalist of Newfoundland, is conducting an evangelistic campaign at the local Salvation Army corps, the meetings being held at 7:45 every night. The campaign will continue until Dec. 14. The public is invited to attend.

The revivalist has been an officer of the Salvation Army for the past 40 years, his service being divided between Newfoundland, Canada, and the United States. His last corps command was that of Washington, D. C. He was then transferred to the evangelistic field and during the last ten years has conducted revival campaigns in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Michigan, and the District of Columbia.

He has conducted revival services in churches of varying denominations including Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Congregational, Universalist, and Lutheran. Before coming to Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula, his last campaign was conducted at Chelsea, Mass. Six thousand people attended his meetings.

Commandant Tilley was twice imprisoned for open air work, once in his native Newfoundland and once in Massachusetts.

NEW RULING GIVEN IN RIPARIAN CONTROVERSY

Lansing, Mich. —(AP)—The Michigan Supreme court in a decision Tuesday gave riparian owners along the shores of the Great Lakes bordering Michigan territory complete title of the land to the waters' edge.

This ruling is opposed to the decision in the Kavanagh case in which upland owners were given title to land only the old meander line. It gives the land owner the right to exclude the public from the strip between the old meander line and the waters' edge, and forces the state to acquire land for waterfront parks by gift, purchase or condemnation.

"The taxes will more than compensate for the loss of any empty title," the decision read. "The right of the state is subordinate to that of the riparian owner."

IHDE ASKS SUPPORT FOR U. S. FARM BOARD

Janesville —(AP)—Support of the Federal Farm board in every constructive program to improve marketing stability and support of the export debenture plan were advocated here Tuesday in the opening address of State Master Herman Ihde, Neenah, at the opening of the 59th annual meeting of the Wisconsin Grange.

About 500 delegates were in attendance at the first of the sessions which will continue through Thursday. Most of the meetings of the Grange are secret, but a public meeting was scheduled for tonight.

75 PERSONS FACING U. S. DRY LAW CHARGES

Hoguan, Wash. —(AP)—Seventy-five persons were under arrest at Gray's Harbor Tuesday and more arrests were expected in a general roundup by federal prohibition agents. Only small quantities of liquor were seized.

Of the 60 arraigned yesterday, many were placed under $1,000 bond. A store building was rented for the arraignments. Agents said they expected to make 50 more arrests here, in Aberdeen and Cosmopolis. Federal officers had been operating here for months in the guise of loggers.

Revivalist

Commandant Abraham Tilley, revivalist of Newfoundland is conducting a series of evangelistic meetings which began Tuesday night and will continue until Dec. 14 at Salvation Army hall. He is well known in this work, having been an officer in the Salvation Army for 40 years.

TAKE GOVERNMENT OUT OF MARKET IS DEMAND

Chicago —(AP)—Calling upon congress to amend the Farm Marketing act immediately so that the government will be taken "out of the market as buyer, seller, and speculator," Prof. James E. Boyle of Cornell university, vigorously denounced activities of the Federal Farm board in an address delivered here Tuesday before the American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers.

Dr. Boyle declared the present method of "trying to influence prices by withdrawing the surplus from the market and withholding it till a later date" has been proven disastrous by the program tried in British rubber and Brazil coffee.

HOLD LITTLE HOPE FOR YOUTHFUL DEER HUNTER

Bessemer, Mich. —(AP)—Hope of rescuing Louis Phillippi, 19, before he succumbs to exposure while lost on a deer hunt eight miles south of Ramsay, was virtually abandoned by searching parties as they returned here Tuesday.

DROP CHAMBER FORUM DINNER FOR DECEMBER

Efforts of the chamber of commerce forum committee to secure a speaker for the December forum dinner session have failed, and as a result the meeting has been abandoned according to E. J. TELLS OF $365,000 ANNUAL COPS' GRAFT

Patrolmen Collected $5 Daily from 200 Speculators, Counsel Claims

New York—(AP)—Information that police have reaped $365,000 annually in graft from ticket speculators has been received by Isidor Kresel, counsel at an inquiry into magistrates' courts.

Representatives of three agencies have told Kresel that patrolmen collected $5 a day from some 200 speculators for the privilege of having their wares in front of theatres and other amusement places.

In spite of this, Kresel heard, many speculators were arrested and their tickets confiscated. Usually the tickets went to the clerks of the courts in which they were arraigned in return for discharges, he was told.

Thymian Bushel, a lawyer and former magistrate, has been questioned by Kresel relative to a charge that he had received a $7,000 fee from a "tender" some years ago. The payee, charged with receiving stolen goods, subsequently was freed in magistrates' court.

"Chile" Mapocha Acuna, who has previously testified to a vice graft ring of police, lawyers and bondsmen, was recalled for the resumption of public hearings today. The inquiry is before a referee under the jurisdiction of the appellate division of the supreme court.

CHINESE TROOPS CLASH WITH REDS

Make Effort to Release Two Missionaries from Communist Forces

Peiping, China—(AP)—Severe fighting has occurred during the last few days between the so-called First Red Army and government troops which are attempting to secure release of the American missionary, the Rev. Bert N. Nelson and the Norwegian missionary, K. N. Fredt. Both are held by Communists at Hwanggan, Hupeh province.

The government side admits 200 casualties, but claims losses totalling 1,000 have been inflicted on the Reds. A telegram from the United States consul at Hankow states that some of the emissaries sent to effect release of the missionaries have themselves been captured by the Reds and are being held.

A letter from Nelson, dated Nov. 12, just received by the United States location authorities, describes the increasing harshness of his position. He wrote that he was still wearing his summer clothes despite the bitter cold and that he was being fed on a little rice and vegetables and only an occasional piece of meat. The bandits were constantly threatening to kill him unless his ransom was paid.

A Chinese relief expedition brought the missionary, Mrs. L. D. Hayward and Miss E. Gomersall safely to Paochow late this afternoon after rescuing them from bandits who captured them last week as they came down the Yellow river on a raft.

ANNAPOLIS POSTOFFICE LOOTED BY BURGLARS

Annapolis, Md.—(AP)—The post-office was robbed Monday night of a sum in stamps and currency expected to reach $10,000, by a group of men, according to officers, who worked undisturbed in the place with the lights on. The vault was cut through with an acetylene torch and the safe inside blown with nitro glycerine.

The discovery was made yesterday morning by an employee. Police said they saw the lights in the postoffice, but thought employees were working in preparation for the Christmas rush.

CITY'S TAX RATE KEPT AT $30 BY MENASHA COUNCIL

Recommendation of Finance Committee Approved by Aldermen

Menasha — The city tax rate will remain at 3 per cent next year, the common council decided Tuesday evening. The decision to keep the rate at its present level was made in consideration of present unfavorable economic conditions, the finance committee reported.

The budget for the coming year will require funds totalling $433,534.11, including under its bond and interest item payment of the $55,000 overdraft existing at present and interest accrued thereby. Because only a little more than $372,000 can be raised by the 3 per cent tax, proper officials are authorized to secure a loan from the First National Bank equal to unpaid special assessments outstanding on the city's books at the present time. As the assessments are paid to the city, the money will be immediately turned over to the bank in payment of the loan. By adopting the resolution, the city secured about $55,000 for use during the coming year.

MAYOR LAUDS COUNCIL

Before placing the budget before the council for a vote, Mayor Remmel lauded the work of the aldermen in keeping the city's expenses along a proper, efficient and successful plane during the past. He cited the payment of $38,000 on a $95,000 loan made by the city at the First National bank. At the close of his talk, Alderman McGowan moved that a vote of thanks be extended to the First National bank for the service and courtesy extended the city during the past year.

After passage of the budget and resolution of thanks to the aldermen, Mayor Remmel, chairman of the finance committee, pointed out the necessity of staying within the budget limitations.

"We must adhere to budget restrictions if the welfare of the taxpayers is to be guaranteed," he said. "We must not break our word."

Mayor Remmel told of the difficulties encountered when a city official is forced to say no, but stated that "the people will back us up."

WILL REPAIR BRIDGE

The bridge committee was authorized to have plans and specifications drawn by the city engineer for the immediate repair of the Mill-st bridge. Present plans provide that the concrete surface of the bridge shall be replaced with concrete to eliminate excessive weight and vibration and to allow a possible increase in load limit. In addition to resurfacing, necessary repairs will be made to the stringers. All work will be done by Menasha labor and further repairs will be unnecessary for about 20 years, it is expected. An appropriation of $12,000 to cover the cost of the work was included in the 1931 budget.

A resolution to urge the United States War department to reestablish the level of Lake Winnebago from the experimental level of 15 inches to the previous level of 21 inches was introduced. The difficulties and inconveniences to municipalities along the lower Fox River caused by the low water level were cited as reasons for action, but the matter was referred to the board of public works.

APPROVE WARNING SIGNAL

Installation of a wig-wag signal and the Plank-rail railroad crossing was recommended by the board of public works and passed by the council. A recommendation to authorize the purchase of 12 pairs of boots, four truck tires, and an inhalator for the fire department was approved. The city clerk was instructed to advance to the board of public works at the mid-monthly meeting on Dec. 16.

A sewer construction assessment against lot five, subdivision lot six and seven, block 55, of the Fourth ward, was ordered cancelled in view of the city present ownership of the property. Following a motion by Alderman Baldwin, the street committee was authorized to erect aerial stop signs on all four corners of the intersection of Third and De Witt streets. The action was taken in view of a number of recent accidents at the corner.

A petition from Hornok and Brown, owners of the wintergreen golf course, relative to the erection of a hanging sign, was referred to the street department and the city attorney. The monthly report of the poor commission revealed that aid totalling $298.50 had been extended during November, although $41 is to be charged against the city.

The monthly financial report showed a balance in all funds of $10,128.16 and labor statements and accounts were read and accepted.

TRIPPE OPPOSES RIVER WATERWAY

Major of Engineering Corps Voices Sentiment in Letter to Mayor

Menasha — A communication from H. M. Trippe, major of the United States corps of engineers at Milwaukee, voicing disapproval of the proposed Fox and Wisconsin River waterway, was received by Mayor N. G. Remmel.

The letter states that the report authorized by an act of congress of July 3, 1930, is unfavorable to the improvement on the ground that there is no appreciable amount of commerce present or prospective on the upper Fox river above the mouth of the Wolf river or on the Wisconsin river below Portage; that established railroads and highways with auto trucks easily handle the small amount of business; that there is no demand for transportation in the direction of these rivers as indicated by the absence of a through railroad paralleling the route, that improvement of the route for a nine foot depth was thoroughly investigated and reported upon adversely by the district and division engineers, the board of engineers for engineers for rivers and harbors, and the chief of engineers in 1925 and 1929.

The mayor was informed that interested parties could appeal the matter to the board of engineers for rivers and harbors within four weeks. If data cannot be secured within that time notification should be made to the board.

600 MILLION FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE COST

Washington—(AP)—The United States will spend $600,000,000 for national defense in the next fiscal year. If congress adheres to the budget estimates forwarded today by President Hoover.

This is nearly $4,000,000 less than defense appropriations for the current year, but the contemplated use in 1932 of unexpended balances would almost offset the decrease.

The president asked $25,300,000 for construction of naval vessels next year, a decrease of $21,000,000. But utilization of a large unexpended balance resulting from delay in building pending negotiation of the London treaty would bring the 1932 construction total to $51,600,000.

These funds would be used to carry forward work on the aircraft carrier and seven of the light cruisers carrying 3-inch guns authorized in 1929, and for work on the incomplete light cruisers and submarines being constructed under prior authorizations.

"The construction of those vessels now authorized which are permitted by the London treaty should now go forward without delay," the president said.

He noted that the government could build three more 3-inch gun cruisers by 1935, under the London pact, if it desired, but that the remaining five under the 1929 fifteen-ship program would have to carry guns of less than 3-inch caliber.

An estimated 1932 expenditure of nearly $30,000,000 for army and navy aviation was listed. This contemplates the procurement of a minimum of 787 airplanes, engines, and accessories.

A total of 392 planes would go to the army, leaving a possible shortage of only 66 in the authorized total of 1,648. The National Guard now has its full complement of 152 planes.

The naval aviation expansion program authorized by Congress and calling for 1,000 planes and two rigid airships will be completed this fiscal year, as far as the planes are concerned. The estimates, therefore, provided only for procurement of 277 naval replacement planes and $1,875,000 for the completion of one airship and construction of the other.

ASSESSMENTS INCREASE ON PUBLIC UTILITIES

Madison—(AP)—Assessments on public utilities in Wisconsin increased $22,479,440 during the past 10 years, according to statistics compiled by the state tax commission. Assessments against all public utilities in 1921 totaled $460,016,460 as compared with $712,495,900 in 1930. The largest increase during the past year came with street railways and connected utilities. In this group assessments jumped from $252,122,500 in 1929 to $272,907,500 in 1930.

Total taxes against public utility corporations this year are $14,570,310.30. The state tax commission reported that the average state rate for 1930 was .020449678 as compared with .020005318 for the year 1929.

Approximately $500,000 of railroad taxes are remitted to railroad states as the taxes on railroad terminal property rather than being put into the general fund of the state for other uses. Sixty-five per cent of the taxes of street railway companies, light, heat and power companies and conservation and regulation companies are remitted to the towns, cities and villages in which the property is located and business transacted, while 20 per cent of these taxes are remitted to counties on the same basis, the tax commission said.

"THE STORE OF TRUE VALUES"

Ahl And Thompson Are Winners At Amateur Show

TWO KNOCKOUTS, 2 SLUGFESTS FEATURE INTERESTING CARD

Andy Durr, Tony Bruno, Although Beaten, Given Big Hand by Crowd

BY GORDON R. MCINTYRE
LD Army G wasn't packed to the bulging point last evening and the fans weren't hanging from the rafters as Oney Johnston post of the American legion staged its monthly amateur show, but folks, the fans who were there saw some of the greatest fights ever staged hereabouts.

They saw two quick knockouts, six rounds of as fierce slugging and fighting as they'll ever see, and two bouts that had just enough comedy in them to top off the evening's show and make one marvel at the entertainment the fans who plunk down a dollar or fifty cents get for their money.

Hans Ahl still reigns undefeated among state boxers, Herbie Thompson has again mastered Tony Bruno, and a new sockmeister, one Sammy Cianciola, has been introduced to local fans. The boys in the other three bouts, the first three of the evening, can't draw so much credit because they failed to show the skill brought out in the last three.

Andy Durr was Hans Ahl's opponent and won as many friends in losing as he might have gained in winning. Andy was knocked down a couple of times, took a severe beating and finally was counted out when he was floored with a hard right cross that lifted him up and dropped him on the canvas in the third.

DURR AGGRESSOR
The boys opened slowly, feeling each other out with Durr carrying the fight. There were a couple even exchanges during the first stanza which probably was marked down as a draw.

In the second frame Ahl was all prepared for the tough little Milwaukeean who got on his broom stick horse and galloped after Hans. That was just what Ahl wanted and he pummeled Durr unmercifully from then on dropping him for two counts of nine in the second round and doing damage with blows to the heart and jaw.

The third frame was a repetition of the first. Ahl was the aggressor. Durr was to take one on the button for the last time. He was unable to stay away from Hans who waits for his man to come dashing in and the pounds away while the other chap can't get set. Durr doesn't know the meaning of the words back up and that only helped Ahl's case.

HERBIE GETS GOING
During this period he abandoned his defense and came out the old Herbie Thompson, punning with both hands and arms like a steam engine. When Herbie gets that way it's his bad news for opponents and a trip-hammer-like series of blows to Bruno's body soon had the Milwaukeean slowed up to a walk. It was Herbie's round by a big margin and evened the fight.

Bruno seemed stronger as the third frame opened again. Herbie registered a couple more blows to the body. Several of these hurt terribly and near the end of the stanza, Bruno went down clutching his side. He took a nine count and then got up and weathered the round.

The decision met with favor among the fans but they also paid Bruno a couple of good slaps. His exhibition hand as he left the ring. His exhibition was one of gameness that was equalled only by Durr.

Sammy Cianciola of Milwaukee and Jack Lee of Elkhorn were matched in the fourth fight which lasted just about one and three-quarter minutes. Lee outweighed Cianciola by about seven pounds, according to weight announcements, and he carried the fight by rushing after the Milwaukeean. Sammy stood ground, however, and when he caught Lee on the jaw during a fierce exchange, Lee's knees buckled and he became the defender.

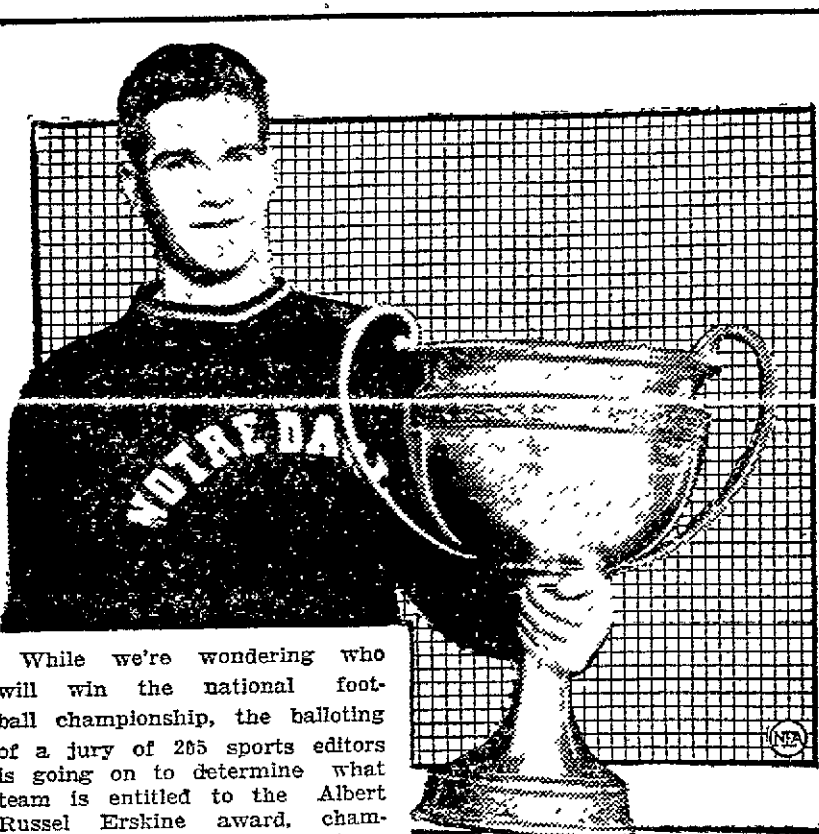

Cianciola then took the offense and found Lee an easy mark for a terrific right to the jaw. But Lee was rugged and absorbed a half dozen punches before he became groggy. About 20 seconds later Referee Freddie Andrews stopped the fight when it was obvious Lee was out on his feet and unable to defend himself.

WEYENBERG K. O. SCHULTZ
The third fight, between Frank Weyenberg and Hank Schultz, two Appleton boys, also was a knockout. Schultz, reporting on the canvas one minute after the fight started. The boys, heavyweights, started like a couple of lightweights settling a neighborhood quarrel. Schultz was swinging but missing and Weyenberg stayed with his man landing a left to the jaw followed by a straight right to the chin. Schultz slumped to the mat and was half way up as the referee counted ten.

Howard Aderhold, Neenah, won the decision over Gilbert Retter from the fourth round, in the second bout. Aderhold won the first round by forcing the fighting and making most of his blows count for something. Retter on the other hand rushed into clinches that would have won praise from Knute Rockne for perfect tackling from the first round to the last.

The second round saw the boys trying and Retter getting the better of exchanges because of an apparent carelessness on the part of Aderhold. Retter fought during this frame and seldom clinched. In the third and last stanza, Aderhold took the offense and Retter again went to

National Grid Champs Get It

While we're wondering who will win the national football championship, the balloting of a jury of 265 sports editors is going on to determine what team is entitled to the Albert Russell Erskine award, championship emblem shown above.

Notre Dame captain, Notre Dame won it in the arms of Tom Conley, who last year and for want of a better guess, most of us will vote "Irish" again this year. Anyhow, if Southern California doesn't stop the Rockets Dec. 6, who will?

Perfectly Executed Irish Play Defeated Cadets

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS
Copyright 1930
CHICAGO (CPA)—Optimism shone on the face of Knute Rockne when the Notre Dame Raiders entrained here Monday for Los Angeles and the Southern California game. The slick Rock was mightily pleased with the performance of his Gaels against the Army and is of the opinion that the muddy struggle against the Cadets was just the tonic to put Notre Dame in top condition for its final battle of the season against the Trojans.

"We came through the Army game without a serious injury," said Rockne. "A few of the boys were bruised a bit, but the game was good for them. They played under trying weather conditions and once more showed their superiority. I expect a hard game with Southern California, but I think we have a chance."

ROCKNE VS. WARNER
What Rockne failed to say was that he expected to give the Warner style of offense another shelling. The coaches who used the Warner system or any variation of it have had little success against Notre Dame this season. The Irish tackled with only fair success before his 54 yard run for touchdown on Soldier's sloppy field. His success on the run was partially due to the cadet's own mental sluggishness. Knowing the danger of a run by Schwartz, they were sending three men after O'Brien, who subbed for Kosky at end, to stop an expected pass attack. Carideo quickly noted the fact and drilled Schwartz over left tackle. Trice and the Army backs were too far out of position as a play hitter repeatedly with telling results. He won 22 and lost 15 games and batted 311.

TED LYONS BUSIEST PITCHER IN LEAGUE
Chicago (AP)—Teddy Lyons of the seventh place White Sox was the busiest pitcher of the American league last season. Not only did Lyons pitch more innings than any other hurler in the league, 238, but he was called upon to fill the hole repeatedly with telling results. He won 22 and lost 15 games and batted 311.

JOE SAVOLTI TO PLAY AGAINST BAY PACKERS
Chicago (AP)—"Jumping Joe" Savolti, the former Notre Dame star, will keep on playing with the Chicago Bears of the National Professional Football league. Although the Bears were fined $1,000 for violation of the league rule, which prohibits the employment of a college player until his class is graduated, the Bear management said they would keep playing him. They have appealed the case to the league's board of executives.

POSTPONE BALKLINE BILLIARD TOURNAY
Chicago (AP)—The challenge match for the Honam amateur 13.2 balkline billiard title at Madison, will start next Saturday instead of Friday. The match, between champion Edgar T. Appleby of New York and challenger Ray V. Fessenden of Madison was set back a day at the request of the promoters.

tackling, the Neenah boy hitting as he pleased while Retter landed not more than four times. Clarence Kositzke, Appleton, and George Weber of Menasha opened the show. Weber set Kositzke on his tonneau within a few seconds of the opening bell with a right to the jaw. Thereafter he did little but wait for Kositzke to come in and then swing wildly. As far as ability to punch, Kositzke winning the decision because of an apparent defense and the fact he continually carried the fight to his opponent.

Kositzke displayed an astonishing inability to punch last night. He was free to use his left with ease but seemed unable to put any push behind it and most of the time was rubbing it in Weber's face. The rest of the evening he held it out in front of him to ward off Weber's wild swings.

Manager Dan Howley of the Cincinnati Reds is trying to trade "Jersey Joe" Stripp, third baseman, for a heavy hitting first baseman, plastered Pittsburgh, Northwestern, Pennsylvania and Army, all exponents of the wingbacks, and now he hopes to batter Southern California, where Howard Jones teaches some thing of the Warner offense.

If Rockne succeeds in beating Southern California, he not only will come through the season with highest ranking honors, but he also will have proven to his own satisfaction, at least—that the system of speed and deception as taught at Notre Dame is a superior scoring vehicle to the power and deception theory followed by Pop Warner and his disciples.

Rockne enjoyed Schwartz's touchdown run in the fourth period of the Army game immensely, for its artistry as well as its utilitarian value. Schwartz's smash, over left tackle has been Notre Dame's best scoring play throughout the season. Frank Carideo is a master at setting the stage for the play and once the prop is in place he strikes with startling suddenness. It was on the last tackle drive that Schwartz scored against Navy, Pitt and Northwestern and against all of those teams his runs were for more than twenty-five yards and came at the psychological moments.

Schwartz had battered at Army's tackles with only fair success before his 54 yard run for touchdown on Soldier's sloppy field. His success on the run was partially due to the cadet's own mental sluggishness. Knowing the danger of a run by Schwartz, they were sending three men after O'Brien, who subbed for Kosky at end, to stop an expected pass attack. Carideo quickly noted the fact and drilled Schwartz over left tackle. Trice and the Army backs were too far out of position as a play hitter repeatedly with telling results. He won 22 and lost 15 games and batted 311.

RUBE GETS SHOW LEADS ELMHURST GRIDDERS

Elmhurst, Ill.—"Rube" Getschow, three year veteran on Coach F. C. McFarland's Elmhurst Pirates, was elected captain of the 1931 Elmhurst college football squad at an honorary dinner dinner given the team here last Saturday.

Thirty five football men heard President Timothy Lehmann of the college describe the value of football in building up a college spirit on the Elmhurst campus. President Lehmann briefly reviewed the achievements of Coach McFarland in his three years at Elmhurst College, and described Coach McFarland as the "outstanding man on the Elmhurst college campus and the man who gets things done." He further personally awarded each played by a brief greeting. Dr. Helmick of the college also spoke highly of the team. Following the banquet dancing was enjoyed.

Seventeen Elmhurst College football warriors were awarded the coveted "R" sweater by President Timothy Lehmann of the college recently.

Short Jolts

"W" INDY THOMAS was in Thompson's corner during Herbie's battle with Tony Bruno and fought almost as much as Herbie. He was trying to put the defense under the heater should have had and was highly pleased when the fight ended and Herbie got the nod.

Appleton was introduced to the new fight commissioner, who replaced the late Tom Watson, in a rather unpleasant manner. One would think that the commission would select representatives who can act at the part of gentlemen when directing the bouts instead of bellowing across as though handling roughnecks.

The crowd wasn't as large as at other fights because Decatur isn't a good fight month. Folks are spending most of their money in the stores this month. But the fans who didn't attend missed some thing.

Herbie Thompson hit Bruno low during the first round but apologized for the blow and of course Tony accepted with due grace. There were several other examples of sportsmanship shown by the fighters during the evening, one being when Ahl saved Durr from going through the ropes by hanging onto him in the second or third frame.

The bouts between the heavyweights, Weyenberg and Schultz, started like a championship affair and gave indications of developing into something seldom seen in heavy circles, a fast fight. But then Schultz slopped a couple punches that ended the brawl.

Thompson had a real Dempsey scowl on his face when he started the second round and rushed out of his corner intent on winning back the points he had lost. When he started the third frame his face was wreathed in a confident smile.

The writer has watched Clarence Kositzke in three bouts recently and has failed to see much improvement. He has a good enough defense but last night failed to show much of a punch in either hand. His left was almost powerless and his only blows with the right were to the kidney. He dodges nicely, however, and can protect himself in the clinches.

A. P. WILL ANNOUNCE ALL STAR TEAM DEC. 6
New York (AP)—The sports editors and football experts have spoken, so far as the 1930 All-America gridiron selections are concerned. In response to this year's sixth annual request by the Associated Press, a representative group of 213 newspaper critics posted their preferences for the best players in the country.

Each major section of the country has had a proportionate voice in this year's balloting. This prevented any chance of the ballot box being overweighed with the opinions of any one area of gridiron conflict.

MINORS TRANSACT ROUTINE BUSINESS

Question Whether Draft Problem Will Be Brought Up at Meeting

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
MONTREAL (AP)—The draft question tossed back into the laps of the majors, minor league club owners turned their attention today to the first session of the twenty-ninth annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Election of officers, appointment of committees, the secretary's report and election of a new national board of arbitration formed the agenda for the first day. It seemed possible that the draft, sole topic among the delegates Monday and Tuesday, might not even be mentioned in the Association's sessions.

Elsewhere, however, baseball men tried to guess just where the heated dispute between the majors and the five non-draft leagues would lead. The next move in the complex controversy must come from the majors as a result of a resolution adopted by the non-draft leagues affected—the International, Pacific coast, American association, Western league and Three Eve league. They offered to enter into new negotiations with the majors provided the latter withdrew within 15 days their threat to discontinue all business relations with the affected minors.

BABE RUTH GREAT HITTER BECAUSE HE WASN'T INSTRUCTED

Waynesboro, Ga. (AP)—Ty Cobb says lack of batting instruction helped make Babe Ruth the greatest long distance hitter in baseball. The old Georgia peach, here to judge the state field trials, recalls that Babe started out as a pitcher and no one expected much of a pitcher at the bat.

"No one worried Ruth telling him how to hit," Cobb says. "He just took his bats for the pure fun of the thing. All the time he was developing a natural swing." Cobb said.

The short right field fences and the lively ball then made an ideal setting for Ruth, Cobb said. "His slumps are easy to understand. What most people don't know is that the big fellow is a pull-hitter. He has got to pull that ball to right field. That means that he has got to hit it within a certain definite space on his bat of not more than an inch or two to make his home runs."

The Babe isn't through and Hack Wilson's superiority won't last, Cobb added. He also thinks there never will be another long distance hitter like Ruth.

IRISH GRIDDERS NOT BOTHERED BY WEATHER

Chicago (AP)—The Trojans of the University of Southern California, contrary to the usual expectation, did not expect too much aid from the weather man Saturday when they attempt to halt the Notre Dame victory march.

The Rockne Raiders, in forcing the last nine links in their victory string, have played football in almost every conceivable weather. They've won when it was hot, warm, cold, rainy and windy, against better than average football teams, too.

They beat Southern Methodist when it was hot—hotter by far probably than it will be in Los Angeles Saturday. They took the Navy when it was hotter still.

They smothered Carnegie Tech when it was close o zero. When they beat Pittsburgh, it was cold and exceedingly windy. The same weather prevailed at North-western and there was cold, sleet and rain at Chicago last week.

DENVER YOUTH MAY BE AMATEUR CUE CHAMP

Champaign, Ill. (AP)—Robert Harper of Denver seemed headed safely past another challenge to his national amateur three-cushion billiard championship today.

Coming back with a fine display of cue astuteness, Harper last night defeated the challenger, Frank Fleming of Champaign, 61 to 34 in 74 innings of the second block. He took the lead at the two-thirds mark with 150 point match by a score of 100 to 84. The final block will be played tonight.

Ernie Pinckert, Southern California's star interference running half back, is a cartoonist of more than passing ability.

Bucket, Bucket, Who's Got Old Oaken Bucket

LOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Bucket, Bucket, who's got the old oaken bucket? That's the question that thundered across the Indiana University campus today. The cherished bucket, emblematic of football supremacy between those two fighting rivals, Purdue and Indiana, has been stolen or lost.

After Indiana had started the football week by upsetting Purdue, 7 to 6, Nov. 22, the Purdue Athletic Union sent the bucket to Indianapolis where it was to be picked up by representative Indiana students.

Fifteen youths, posing as the official delegation from Indiana, took the trophy and that was the last seen or heard of it.

A conference between Governor Harry G. Leske and officials of the two universities was to be held today in an effort to discover the missing trophy, the Indiana Daily Student stated.

University circles believed the obliging delegation was composed of Purdue sympathizers, perhaps acting in reprisal for the disappearance of the Purdue "victory bell" the night following the football game. The bell was found later near Wingate, Ind.

SEVEN BALL PLAYERS ARE FINED $100 EACH

Montreal (AP)—Because they participated in an exhibition game at Racine, seven minor league baseball players today had been assessed fines of $100 each by the national board of arbitration in session here. Those fined included George Gerken and John Kloza, of the Milwaukee Brewers.

Gerken and Kloza were penalized for playing against the Racine Belles with the association stars. Fines were imposed under rules forbidding players in good standing from competing with players ruled ineligible, some of whom were on the Racine team.

THREE BADGER BOYS WITH NOTRE DAME

Milwaukee (AP)—Three Badger athletes today rolled westward with the two-year undefeated Notre Dame eleven which meets the Trojans in Saturday's football classic at Los Angeles.

Chuck Jaskiwich, Kenosha, quarterback; Joe Kurth, Appleton, fullback; and Paul Hoot, La Crosse, were picked by Knute Rockne as members of his troops making the California trip.

CARIDEO HAS BOOTED 25 KICKS FOR POINT

Chicago (AP)—If an extra point is needed to help Notre Dame defeat the university of Southern California Saturday, chances are it will be supplied by Frank Carideo, generalissimo of the Rockne Raiders.

When Carideo booted over the winning point in the Army game Saturday, it was his twenty-fifth successful place kick for the extra point this season. It's big news when he misses.

INGRAM WORKS FOR BATTLE WITH PENN

Navy Coach Must Also Keep His Squad Primed for Army Game, Dec. 13

New York (AP)—The Navy football team, which has beaten only two important opponents this season, faces one of the hardest assignments of the year in playing Pennsylvania and the Army on successive Saturdays, but the Midshipmen are not discouraged at the odd against them.

At various times, Navy has been handicapped by injuries but now it has a full team of regulars in condition. Two big problems still are ahead of Coach Bill Ingram, keeping the men in shape through Saturday's battle with Penn, which probably will be played on frozen ground unless the weather goes through another quick change, and developing his reserves.

The middy substitutes did not show much last week as they played against George Washington and unless they come through the regulars will have to carry most of the burden. Penn is rated fully as strong as Navy if the Quakers can get all their men into condition although their record for the season is no better. Army stands far ahead in the rankings, but that never has kept Navy from putting up a great fight and this year it may be even harder.

They imposed under rules forbidding players in good standing from competing with players ruled ineligible, some of whom were on the Racine team.

Pending the outcome of today's meeting, a preliminary to the Big Ten schedule session in Chicago this week-end, coaches had little to say about the possibility that the inter-collegiate slate in minor sports might be limited.

HAWKEYES MAY CURTAIL THEIR SPORTS PROGRAM

Iowa City, Ia. (AP)—The immediate future of the University of Iowa intercollegiate sports program was in the balance here today, as the Hawkeye athletic council prepared to reconvene its football crowds with the financing of the athletics.

Pending the outcome of today's meeting, a preliminary to the Big Ten schedule session in Chicago this week-end, coaches had little to say about the possibility that the inter-collegiate slate in minor sports might be limited.

While official figures were lacking, it was estimated that 72,000 persons saw the Hawkeyes in six home games this year, 8,000 fewer than in 1929.

Dean C. C. Williams, chairman of the athletic board, has indicated that any decision to curtail other sports for the rest of the school year is "up to the board" today.

Sports Question Box

Question—Two men are out. Runners are on first and second. Batter hits a home run but the base runner at first cut second. The ball is relayed to the base and the runner is declared out. How many runs score?

Answer—None. The runner from first was forced out and the third hand out.

Question—Is the Southern California team a stronger eleven in material this year than last?

Answer—It would look so on the record, but in point of individual strength the men lost viz, Saunders, Tappan and Dye, were as strong as those who replaced them.

Question—Batter hits a fly ball to right field which is caught by the fielder but the ball strikes his body before he holds it. Is the batter out?

Answer—Yes.

STAR PRO CAGER TO RETURN TO COURTS

Chicago (AP)—Nat Hickey, star forward and point guard for the Chicago's Bruin's professional basketball team, will return to the game tonight when his mates meet Rochester, N. Y.

Hickey strained his ankle and was forced out of the Cleveland game Sunday night, topping the Bruins in their drive for first place in the league race.

EXACT DATA FOR CONGRESS IN MESSAGE

Value of Fact-finding Bodies
Revealed in Hoover's
Annual Message

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1930 by Post Pub. Co.
Washington — (CPA)—Few messages from a president of the United States have ever followed so literally the constitutional requirement that the chief executive should "before congress information as to the state of the union."

Never before perhaps has the economic situation been of such widespread interest though of course ideas have occurred from time to time but it is doubtful whether any president ever had the facilities for the making of such a survey as Mr. Hoover presents in his annual message. It is a conspicuous example of the value of the fact-finding processes which the government itself has set up in the years since the war. Indeed it was not until the industries of the country were mobilized in 1918 and the introspection began that so much information about American economic conditions was available.

Mr. Hoover's message is dominated by a fact-finding survey of existing conditions which is all the more interesting because he uses as a basis of comparison the year 1928 on the theory that it approaches the normal much more than did 1929, especially since the latter year had at least two months of disturbed conditions.

FACTS
The president's idea was to put on record the facts of depression so that the public might have an accurate conception of the job that lies ahead. Confidence of course is apparent in every line of the message for there are no cautious phrases in it with reference to the future.

"Recovery can be expedited," says the president definitely, and the effects of the depression "mitigated by cooperative action."

Mr. Hoover points the way to better conditions by arguing that the individual as well as business concerns should maintain self-reliance pursue methods for improvement of each business or service and play a part also in the organization of community life to take care of the unfortunate.

Although the president realizes that the present session of congress is brief he indicates clearly the need for careful handling of appropriation bills, further government prudence in expenditures so as to reduce if not erase a possible deficit, and at the same time he wants the congress to consider the legislative program that must of necessity come up when the present session ends.

Mr. Hoover wants the congress to act on Muscle Shoals and laws on bus regulation, but the other measures he enumerates such as relief of congestion in the courts and legislation with reference to the border smuggling are not likely to become subjects of major controversy.

POWER REGULATION
Looking to the future the president pronounced himself as in favor of effective regulation of interstate electrical power but adds that such regulation "should preserve the independence and responsibility of the states." This remark will be regarded by the public utility industry as a note of reassurance as against the school of thought which is urging federal regulation.

Business and industry will also be interested in the president's recommendation that congress hasten the necessity legislation to facilitate railway consolidation, that a broad inquiry into the anti-trust laws be undertaken, that the capital gains tax be repealed so as to reduce the motive for speculative inflation, and that the immigration laws be revised so as to reduce temporarily at least the number of immigrants who might be added to the army of unemployed. In the realm of foreign relations the president does not make an extended survey stating that he will have a special message on the world court protocol at a later date. It is probable that the inter-

U.S. Building Plans Set At 132 Million

Washington—(AP)—The administration expects $132,500,000 to be spent on federal buildings before the next fiscal year ends.

President Hoover named the figure today in transmitting to congress the 1932 budget, which calls for $111,811,500 for procurement of sites and construction work. Sixty millions would be spent outside Washington and five millions inside. The remainder would go toward army, veterans and prison facilities.

The total authorized program amounts to $520,000,000. Specific authorizations have been made for $35 projected and $149,535,000 has been appropriated. Of this, $72,558,000 is yet available. Plans call for $56,000,000 of that amount to be spent before June, leaving the remainder for disbursement with the $60,000,000 asked in the budget. The public buildings expenditure thus would total $76,558,000 in 1932, the President said and the total for the 20-month period beginning last November 1 "therefore amounts to upward of $132,500,000."

The war department carries ahead a $160,000,000 program, for which $53,348,000 has been appropriated and $14,700,000 asked today. For navy buildings the budget allots $9,342,900. To complete the $15,000,000 veterans hospitals program, $7,950,000 is provided for liquidating authorized contracts and $3,400,000 for construction at branches of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers. Indian service constructions were allowed $3,400,000.

The estimates for the department of justice include provision for construction at the Atlanta (Ga.) Penitentiary $100,000; at the McNeil Island (Wash.) Penitentiary, $214,000; at the industrial reformatory, Chillicothe, Ohio, $1,000,000; for a new reformatory west of the Mississippi River, the location of which has not yet been decided upon, $500,000, for federal jails, $500,000.

For the state department $2,000,000 is provided for construction of houses and offices for diplomats abroad.

national situation will be dealt with in separate messages throughout the year particularly as developments in the reduction of armament may justify such communications to congress.

On the whole the president's message is uttered in a tone of assurance to the country that an economic recovery may be anticipated but Mr. Hoover does not assume to prophesy the length of depression for a period necessary for a return to conditions of two years ago.

CHICAGO DRAWING NOOSE OVER NECK OF GANG ELEMENT

Criminals Stand Good Chance of Finding Themselves Strangled

BY OWEN L. SCOTT
Copyright 1930, by Cons. Press

Chicago—The noose gradually is being drawn to a position from which it can be dropped around the neck of Chicago's underworld, and unless jerked away suddenly by a change in public sentiment, stands a good chance of strangling its criminal victims.

That is suggested by the imposing array of forces now surrounding the quarry. It shows that President Hoover's plea for a powerful attack on syndicated crime is having effect, and indicates that Chicago—once the object of world-wide repute as a crime capital—may actually be the first city to free itself of gang influence.

Gangland today faces the following lineup:

An array of special intelligence agents of the department of internal revenue, hot on the trail of income tax conspirators; George E. Q. Johnson, federal district attorney announces that evidence on which "Scarface Al" Capone, No. 1 hood-lum, will be indicted, is "well in hand."

A large force of federal agents from the department of justice and from the prohibition unit, on the trail of liquor law violations and racketeering interference with interstate commerce.

POLICE FORCE PRODDED
A local police force prodded into action by public opinion and by the prospect of a special grand jury investigation of the department, commencing in January.

The "secret six" crime fighters backed by a fund estimated at $5,000,000, contributed by business, and used for marshalling evidence on which a cleanup can be based. Alexander G. Jamie, on leave as head of the special intelligence unit of the prohibition department, is directing this work.

A group of special investigators for the local states attorney, headed by Pat Roche, long-time campaigner against crime, are on the trail of the murder of Alfred Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter.

The employers' association, cooperating with the secret six, and devoting its attention to racketeering. As a result of its activities bombings have almost ceased in Chicago.

An aroused judiciary under the leadership of John McGoorty, chief justice of the criminal court. Judge McGoorty has just started one grand jury on an investigation of bondsmen and bonding practices which have enabled criminals to escape from freedom. He said that of $10,000,000 in bonds forfeited during the past five years less than one per cent had been collected. At the same time a new chief justice of the municipal court announced that Judge John H. Lyle, terror of gangsters, would be retained in the criminal division of the court.

Judge McGoorty is calling a gathering to consider establishment of a metropolitan police force, which would coordinate police activities in communities lying for eighty miles along the lake shore.

Trust Industries, Ltd., the grape concentrate organization, federally sponsored, which delivers grape juice into the home with a guarantee that it will develop a kick, started its local selling campaign. This is expected to cut further the demand for bootleg liquor.

All of the crime fighting agencies are engaging in a measure of cooperation with the intention of strangling crime syndicates through a curtailment of their revenue. Recent locate of former gang gamblers now in the hand business, indicated that the Capone ranks are being trimmed, due to hard times. States Attorney John A. Swanson is convinced that a policeless program directed at harassment and gradual extinction of revenue sources, will be most effective in curbing underworld power.

Paris—After 27 years on the docket, a divorce case finally has been thrown out of court. Technicalities in procedure were used time and again by both sides and once there was a brief reconciliation. A judge eventually decided that any cause that might have existed for divorce had been outlawed. French law forbids publication of the names.

Theronoid Employs Latest Principles of Electro-Magnetism in Health Treatment

Theronoid is a device for the home treatment of disease, particularly chronic ailments. In use, it is connected with the house electrical current. However, its only use of electricity is to convert a part of the current passing through it into magnetism. This magnetism streams from the appliance to a distance of ten or twelve inches. The sick person using the Theronoid feels no sensation at all, but during the time he or she is using the appliance, profound effects are being produced in the blood and cells of every tissue and organ.

There is just one way to rebuild a broken down body — call the disease what you will — and that is to restore it to what belongs to it naturally. In using Theronoid, you are restoring to the sick person a cosmic energy which civilized life has nearly deprived him of. We believe that electro-magnetism from the Theronoid supplies a natural necessary stimulus to vital processes which will start many invalids on the road to robust health.

COMMON COUNCIL HOLDS TAX RATE AT $35 A $1,000

Kaukauna Levy Fixed at $266,254 by Aldermen Tuesday Evening

Kaukauna—Tax payers will pay a rate of $35 per thousand, the same as last year, the city council decided Tuesday evening. A rate of $40 was discussed, but the consensus of opinion was that it is not a proper time to boost the tax rate. The assessed valuation of the city is $7,607,265 and the tax levy is $266,254.

The state tax is $7,284.07, county tax $49,493.95 and county school tax $5,385.45, for a total of $62,163.47. The rest of the tax levy is: electric light bonds and interest, $5,387.50; park bonds and interest, $1,135; water works bonds and interest, $5,450; high school bonds and interest $14,675; additional high school bonds and interest, $5,375; Fox river bridge bonds and interest, $8,750; canal bridge bonds and interest, $8,750; street improvement bonds and interest, $7,700; interest on free bridge improvement bonds, $1,500; south sewer district bonds and interest, $2,050; schools, high, Park and Nicolet, $64,571; vocational school $12,000; library $5,000; loan to banks $50,000; road districts $7,607.26; sewer districts $3,803.63; and contingent expenses $3,567.42 with a total of $204,090.81. The entire total is $266,254.28.

There also was a special tax levy of $12,022.95 for the construction of pavements, sewers, snow removal, and destruction of weeds. It was pointed out that this was levied for pavement already constructed in the city and the amount is to be paid in by property owners.

The state, county and city school tax is less this year. Last year the state tax was $7,971.59, county tax $108,772.95 and county school tax $5,375.19. The vocational school was allotted $1,000 more than last year making a total of $12,000 for the school. A total of $266,087.15 was raised by taxes last year.

COUNCIL STUDIES ROAD RELOCATION

Invites Kaukauna Supervisors to Discuss Problem at Next Meeting

Kaukauna—County supervisors from this city have been invited to attend the next meeting of the city council on Tuesday, Dec. 16 to discuss the movement to relocate highway 41 through Wrightstown. The invitation was extended by the council Tuesday evening.

The matter was brought to the attention of the council by Mayor B. W. Fargo. He urged the council to go on record approving the action taken by the county board in adopting a resolution favoring the relocation of the highway. He stated that the endorsement on part of the council would aid in bringing about the change, which was originally proposed by the Brown-co board.

Alderman W. Carnot stated that although he favored the change, he did not think it necessary for the council to go on record on the matter. He suggested having the supervisors attend a meeting of the council. Mayor Fargo agreed to this arrangement and a motion to that effect by Alderman G. L. Smith was passed.

Construction of storm and sanitary sewers on Crook-ave also was discussed and referred to the board of public works. Mayor Fargo stated that a sanitary sewer would prove costly, but a storm sewer there should be considered.

He stated that there is a possibility of the county paving part of highway 55, which enters the city on Crook-ave, and that the sewer ought to be laid before this is done. The county can make an appropriation to aid in such paving within the city, he said.

FEWER CATTLE IN FARM FEED LOTS

About 30 Per Cent Less Shipped into State for Feeding This Year

Madison—Fewer cattle are being fattened in the feed lots of Wisconsin farms this year than a year ago. About 30 per cent less cattle have been shipped into Wisconsin for feeding and other purposes during the past five months than during the same period a year ago. October shipments were about equal to those of last year, but the activities were smaller earlier in the season, according to the crop reporting service of the Wisconsin and United States departments of agriculture at Madison.

The demand for stocker and feeder cattle during October improved considerably. This resulted in relatively large shipments from markets into the corn belt feeding states. At the same time prices tended to strengthen somewhat during the month although the usual trend of prices during October is downward.

The estimated shipments of stocker and feeder cattle into the eleven corn belt states in October, inspected through markets, were about 35,000 head or 6 per cent smaller than the heavy October shipments of 1929, but were as large or larger than any other October in the past five years and 5 per cent above the five-year October average. The proportion of October shipments to the total for the four months July to October was the largest in twelve years. The total of these shipments for the four months July to October this year was about 11 per cent smaller than for these months in 1929 and smaller than for any other year since 1921 except in 1927 when the October shipments were very small.

Compared to last year the decrease in the shipments during the four months was mostly in the total to the state east of the Mississippi river. The total shipments to the states west of the river were only 5 per cent smaller, with a large increase into Nebraska and some increase in South Dakota and Minnesota, but with Iowa, Missouri and Kansas all having decreases.

Improved demand for and the increased shipments of stocker and feeder cattle in October were due to the declining prices of corn and other feedstuffs, to the somewhat improved prospects for corn production, to the relatively wide spread between feeder and fat cattle prices and the generally favorable weather through October. This demand will probably continue through November, especially if the weather during the month is favorable, as more than the usual proportion of corn-stalk fields will be available for pasture early in the month due to the early completion of husking.

Chapter 28
Beyond the Sand Dunes
 DAGGER enjoyed her experiences even while learning to adjust herself to the camel's awkward gait. Gradually, Sidi Marut relaxed his attitude of aloofness. He would ride beside her on the march, and stop, at her tentdoor evenings, chatting of the country they traversed, reciting hero-tales of his people, the lore of the Koran, the story of El-Sennusi and his disciples, who had revolted against the degenerate modern interpretation of the Prophet's message, and in the most distant oases of the Libyan Desert organized the nucleus of a reformed creed which was spreading like a flame from Darfur to Chinese Turkestan.

She was tempted to ask him their present mission, for day by day they continued along the sea-coast, seldom out of sight of the waves, and she had supposed they would head inland for the desert; but she was confident that she would learn more by patience. And in the end she was rewarded.

They had almost reached the borders of Tunis, and were camped in a grove of cedars. He came to her that night, as she sat on her saddle beside a small fire one of the men had kindled for her--they were all kind, all treated her with exquisite courtesy, saluting her respectfully as Lalla Mezra, the Lady of the Lance.

"Lalla," he began abruptly, "you must have wondered to what purpose we journeyed?"

"I haven't asked," she pointed out, smiling.

"And having remained discreet," he returned, smiling, too, "you shall be instructed. We of the Sennusi have difficulty in acquiring arms since the war, and a part of my mission is to arrange for shipments. A boat has landed a quantity from Greece close by here. In the night we shall collect them. If the French discover us, now or later, there will be trouble for all whom they capture. Will you leave us, and go on to Tunis? I can spare you men and beasts. You shall be safe."

"I wouldn't think of it," cried Dagger. "Why I knew all the gun-runners on the Mexican border--our part of it, at least. I know a lot about gun-running, Sidi."

His bow was a gesture of applause.

That night there was much bustling in the cedar grove. In the morning Dagger saw that the caravan had doubled in size. Guns and cartridges were deftly concealed in bales of miscellaneous merchandise. And the route followed, now, trended directly south, steering wide of all the larger towns and garrisoned posts, where French officials or patrols might ask embarrassing questions.

Traveling in this roundabout, stealthy fashion added materially to the mileage; weeks slipped imperceptibly into one another, and became months. Sometimes at first, they were in country fairly well-watered, although mountainous; but after they had stolen past Touggourt, and crossed the Wadi Isharghar into the rear marches of Tunis the Sahara enveloped them.

Dagger became hard and ruddy-brown, the desert brown that is more red. She could ride all day, without weariness, drinking a few mouthfuls of murky water, eating a handful of dates or couscous or curried milk or cheese, once in a while a mess of eggs. She learned Arabic, conveyed in jerky sentences with fierce-eyed men.

In after-years she came to learn something of the anomalous position she filled. She realized that the strange men who visited the caravan or traveled with it for stretches, and were trusted with the truth, would have refused to believe in her virtue but for the fact that Sidi Marut vouched for her.

Sidi Marut was a great man in the desert, as great a man as the Governors-General in their palaces in Tunis and Algiers. She heard talk which indicated a relentless, undying hatred of foreign domination.

In all the sandy hinterland of the desert, behind the sweep of the High Atlas, south to the Camerons and the Congo, the desert tribes and their negro converted dreamed of the day when Islam should revive its conquests.

But strangely, Dagger's racial pride wasn't affronted, perhaps because Sidi Marut's philosophy appealed to her by its rugged honesty, and sincerity. He believed in the virtue of the soul, in penitence, in self-sacrifice, in triumph by works. In him was the stuff of the dissenters of the Reformation, a faith that was saved from harshness by the innate sweetness of the man. Do what you believe right, he preached. Seek the truth, and when you find it, make it yours. In love of Allah, in obedience to Allah's work, lies salvation.

Once they were attacked by a wandering tribe of Bedawi, pillagers, who whirled out from behind a sandhill, and strove to come to close quarters, where their numbers would have overwhelmed the Sidi's men.

Dagger had her first experience of human combat, and despite the sick feeling at the pit of her stomach as she cuddled her cheek to a rifle butt, she liked the thrill of it--until the Bedawi whirled away in retreat, leaving behind them half a dozen sprawled figures, bare legs sticking grotesquely out of the folds of dirty burnouses. But the Sidi dismissed her compunctions with a wave of the hand.

"Those who would steal must be punished," he said. "Those who would take human life must expect to lose their lives."

It was true, she admitted; but again she had brought home to her Howard's misgivings, and realized with increased clarity the processes his mind had followed. In fact, almost every day she was learning things which brought her into closer touch with him, making her appreciate more the fine balance of his attitude toward the problems of the spirit.

This was especially true after the caravan had reached its destination, the remote oasis of Kufra, where El-Sennusi, himself, ruled jointly as pontiff and feudal lord, with a simplicity that was biblical. She was amazed at the relative poverty, the smallness, of this center of an influential creed. A village, scarcely a town, of white-washed mud houses; a few thousand people, an unpicturesque mosque. And the thoughts which emanated from it were rocking a faith shared by millions of diverse races.

Under Sidi Marut's tutelage, she grasped the psychology of the desert mind and the idealism and fanatical determination which were the soul of Islam, faith militant.

Perhaps it was this very breath of fiery energy and earnest seeking for the absolute which ultimately spurred her restlessness. She liked to listen to the Sheikh and his followers, discussing the problems of Islam, and the ideal way of life. There was a freshness, a genuineness, here that the West lacked.

But presently she felt that she had learned all that she required, and a great urge came to her journey on into the East. The Sidi argued with her gently. Was she not happy? Yes. Why not linger on? In the oasis she was loved and respected. She might set an example to the women. To himself she should be a sister. The Sheikh had said publicly that she was fit to be the mother of warriors. But Dagger had no instinct for motherhood, no more inclination to enter a harem than to reign in the Hotel de Pontoise.

All she wanted or needed was the stimulation of her search for the ashes of Howard's memory--for that was what it amounted to.

And so one morning she said goodbye to the Sheikh and her other friends, and climbed upon the camel the Sidi held for her. He went with her, he and an escort of picked fighting men. It was no trouble, he assured her, in reply to her protestations. There was work for him in Libya and Egypt. He'd carry her at least as far as a frontier station, whence she might arrange for conveyance to Alexandria.

PUBLIC WORKS INCREASED BY 83 MILLION

Total of $402,510,579 Requested in Hoover's Budget Message

Washington—(AP)—An increase of $83,401,933 in the cost of public works to be constructed by the government in 1932 as compared with 1931 was recommended to congress today by President Hoover.

In his second budget message the executive asked for a total of $402,510,579 for public works in 1932 as compared to $319,108,646 in the present or 1931 fiscal year and $270,513,476 in the 1930 year. Among the larger items for the public works program are $181,805,000 for public buildings and $25,000,000 for highway construction.

The cost of the highway construction made the public works program of the department of agriculture the largest of any with a total of $142,759,530 an increase of $49,021,133 over the present year. It in turn was $3,500,000 greater than in 1930.

WAR DEPARTMENT PROJECTS The war department came second in the public works list with a total of $96,324,627 which included the Panama canal expenditures. The amount was $2,000,000 more than for the present year and $13,000,000 more than spent in 1930.

Of the war department public works expenditures for the 1932 fiscal year $72,271,637 was for non-military projects. This included $39,000,000 for flood control on the Mississippi river, $10,000,000 for flood control on the Sacramento river, $38,000,000 for rivers and harbors work and $144,000 for construction and maintenance of roads, bridges and trails in Alaska.

The treasury's public works program in addition to the public building program called for a new coast guard academy to cost $1,640,000 and $500,000 for purchase of buildings sites in Washington, bringing its total expenditure under this head to $68,385,500.

The navy was allotted $10,178,100 of which $10,000,000 would be spent in building barracks, shops, hangars, floating dry docks, sea walls and piers and $178,100 for improving roads, railroads, walks, landing fields, seaplane runways and grounds.

PRISON CONSTRUCTION The department of justice's program called for total expenditures of $2,514,135 to be used in construction work at existing prisons and extension of its prison building program.

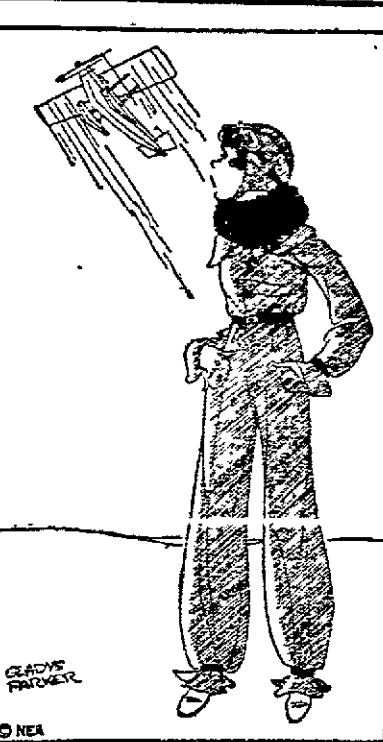

The interior department's program of public works was estimated to cost $37,440,623 for 1932, an increase of $7,000,000 over the present year and $21,000,000 more than in 1930. The major project was the Boulder canyon dam for which $17,000,000 was asked. Roads and trails in national parks would cost $5,000,000, the same as the present year while the reclamation projects of the department were estimated to cost $8,000,000. Construction of Indian schools, telephone lines, drilling wells, irrigation work roads, bridges and miscellaneous items made up the remainder. Among the miscellaneous projects was education of natives of Alaska which would cost $146,000 while medical relief in Alaska was listed at $26,000.

The department of commerce was given $3,215,100 under the program of the amount $1,441,500 would be spent on aviation, $920,000 on the lighthouse service, and $448,500 on fish cultural stations.

The executive offices and independent establishments came in for a total of $19,065,816 of which hospitals, homes and other buildings, for care of war veterans would receive $11,350,000 and the supreme court building in the District of Columbia $4,250,000.

The legislative branch of the government was allotted $5,744,000 for which $5,800,000 was for the new

41.11 Cents Per Dollar Go To Pay Military Functions

Washington—(AP)—Of every dollar which must be spent next fiscal year, President Hoover estimates 41.11 cents must go to support the military functions of the government.

In his annual budget message today placed the military functions cost at $1,616,387,115.

GIVES REPORT ON FUND OF ANTI-SALOON GROUP

Washington—(AP)—Edward B. Dunford, treasurer of the Anti-Saloon league campaign committee, reported the senate campaign funds committee Tuesday the league had received $6,875, from 750 contributors and spent $5,891 for political purposes in the 1930 election campaigns.

Dunford said a balance of $983 existed, but unpaid bills probably would remove it. In the primary campaign Dunford listed receipts of $9,029 from 650 contributors and expenditures of $8,720.

GANGSTER CHIEF TAKEN FOR RIDE; HINT WOMAN IMPLICATED IN SLAYING

Dapper Lou Ricarno, hand some baby-faced killer, and one of gangland's most widely known gunmen, was "put on the spot" last night. A hail of machine gun bullets brought to an end the reign of the racketeer who had put the beer and alcohol racket on a business basis, exacting tribute from lesser gang leaders.

Ricarno, reputedly a millionaire, had recently returned from a honeymoon on his Florida estate, and it is hinted that his bride of a few days was involved in the shooting.

Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU "SAGITTARIUS"

If December 4th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:30 a. m. to 10 a. m. and from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. The hours for discretion and care are from noon to 1:30 p. m. and from 10:30 p. m. to midnight.

Fairful experiences are predicted on this date through the teachery and gossip of so-called friends. It will be proven that adversity makes strange bed fellows and you will find some unexpected allies. Tie a knot in your purse strings!

The children born on this December 4th will have obstinate, perverse natures. Their will should not be bent although they should be taught the difference between blind stubbornness and decision. They will make strong, characterized, intelligent and successful adults.

Your wife may sometimes fail to bring results, but your smile almost never lets you down. A smile may bribe, but it never corrupts. You have ingratiating manners and enticing ways, and the world is usually glad to take you a lift if it can. Your hands however, are extended with suits as well as to give as receive, and you aim to do unto others as you are done by. You have an optimistic outlook, a kindly, tolerant

You are blessed with both Hope and Patience, and two sovereign remedies for all, and the softest of shions to lean on in adversity.

You are able to think for yourself, and you prefer your own to second-hand thoughts. You are not a copyist in your work, and you can always do your best without supervision. You are a little deaf to suggestions from others and a little too resentful of criticisms, and a little too sure that your plan is the best of the lot. Experience is the one teacher for whom you have sufficient respect, and whom you have sufficient confidence to obey.

The first half of your life will be better than the first. Age is opportunity as well as youth, for evening the sky is filled with suns invisible by day. You will often be called upon to sacrifice your own interests for the sake of duty. You seldom, however, blame about your disappointments, and take them in good grace.

MARKET RETREATS AS LIQUIDATION APPEARS ON PATH

Cautious Advance of Past Three Days Too Slow to Impress Following

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York—(AP)—The stock market slowly retreated today, as an onset of market-like liquidation appeared in its path.
The cautious advance of the past three days had been too unimpressive to attract a following, and President Hoover's report that conditions did not warrant continuation of the 1 per cent income tax reduction was an adverse psychological factor, although Wall Street banks have traditionally favored a conservative fiscal policy.
After a slight slump in the first hour, the list recovered until more extensive selling appeared in the early afternoon, causing fairly general decline of points on two shares sagging a point or more included such issues as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Can, American Water Works, North American, Air Reduction, General Electric, Loews, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Bethlehem Steel, Anaconda and Kennecott. United Carbon, Case, Western Union, Allied Chemical, Oppenheims Collins, and Pere Marquette lost 2 to 3, and Atlantic Coast Line, nearly 5.
Announcement by Carnegie and Bethlehem Steels of a $1-a-ton advance in quotations for plates, shapes and bars for the first quarter had been foreshadowed several weeks ago, when steel producers warned their customers that current quotations could not be guaranteed for the first quarter. It had been previously discounted by the market and failed to have further influence.
Iron Age reported that the seasonal decline in steel production had continued during the past week, reducing operations to 39 per cent of capacity, from 41 a week previously.
It was pointed out that the increase was presumably an effort to bring out latent business. Similar moves were made during the depressions in 1927 and 1922. While Wall Street, in the main, viewed the move as constructive, it was inclined to await results before turning enthusiastically bullish.
The report of Electric Power production was the most favorable of the mid-week statistics. The week ending Nov. 29 showed a decline of only 2.5 per cent from the like week of last year, while the preceding week had shown a drop of 6.2 per cent. A conspicuous item in the days public utility news was the declaration of a 20 per cent stock dividend by American Gas and Electric, which followed the recent ordering of a 10 per cent distribution by American Power and Light.
The weekly freight car loadings figures, covering the period end Nov. 22, were again unfavorable, showing a drop of nearly 500,000 cars from the previous week, a reduction substantial, larger than seasonally normal. The weekly petroleum figures were about a standoff. While crude output was further restricted, gasoline stocks on hand increased substantially, about cancelling the reduction of the previous week.
Credit conditions held steady, with call money still at 2 per cent. There was little demand, and offerings were light. There has been some movement of the money market since Monday, however, when loan calling was extensive.

BOND MART MAINTAINS STEADY UPWARD TREND

New York—(AP)—The bond market was steady today on narrow variations either way. Foreign government securities were fairly active and managed to hold their recent gains and in some instances moved higher. Domestic were quiet but displayed a firm undertone.
Although the market has given some signs of regaining stability this week, buying interest has been only nominal and bond houses are not expected to offer much new financing until an upturn is definitely assured. There were no new offerings today but it was understood that $35,000,000 two year 5 per cent notes will be offered shortly by the Toledo light and power company.
Among the time approaches for announcement of the treasury financing, dealers in United States government securities are showing much interest in what plan the treasury will adopt. Total maturities from Dec. 15 to 17 amount to $555,000,000, the largest portion of which consists of $283,000,000 3 per cent certificates of indebtedness due Dec. 15. There also are two issues of $51,000,000 each in treasury discount bills maturing Dec. 16 and 17.
It is expected that the new financing will not exceed $500,000,000 as reimbursement of a portion of the debt is considered likely. Some dealers believe the treasury will accomplish the refunding through a large issue of certificates of indebtedness maturing in one year. In view of the easy money market it is expected that the government will name a very low coupon rate.

HOG PRICES CLIMB TO HIGHER LEVELS

Regain Another Substantial Portion of Losses Suffered Earlier in Week

Chicago—(AP)—Hogs continued their climb to higher levels, regaining another substantial portion of Monday's losses. Fresh receipts of 25,000 here and 99,000 in the eleven principal market centers were much heavier than the previous Wednesday. Shippers and small packers sold early at 8.50 to 8.60, which cost 10 to 15 more than at the average trading period yesterday. Packers received 7,000 hogs direct and a state supply of 3,000 was carried over unsold from the previous day.
Bovine trade had a quiet start, with some buying pressure in evidence from the start.
Upwards of 100 loads of show cattle will be up for sale Thursday.
One of the local packers reported 1,500 lambs received on direct billing out of the estimated run of 23,000. Open market supplies were ample for all trade requirements, but demand was regarded as urgent enough to hold prices unchanged.

BILL WOULD GIVE STATE CLEAR TITLE TO PLOT OF LAND

Washington Representative Introduces Measure Which Is Before Senate

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent)

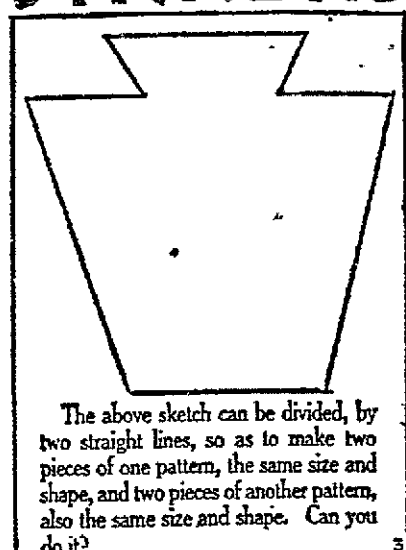

Washington—Wisconsin will get clear title to some 200 miles of shore lands along lakes in northern Wisconsin if the Senate passes a bill introduced by Rep. Robert H. Peavey of Washington and passed by the house of Representatives during the last session.

The bill is now before the Senate committee on public lands. It may be favorably reported and passed during the short session which convenes Monday, as it is approved by the Department of the Interior and the Department of Agriculture. This land was erroneously surveyed in 1854, and shows certain land as water-covered when it is not. This fact makes it impossible for the state to improve these lands, use them for public recreational purposes, or sell or lease building sites for summer homes.

The bill will remove the cloud on the state's title to these lands. Other bills introduced by Rep. Peavey which are of statewide interest, but which have not been reported by the committee to which they were referred include a measure to require that the level of the Great Lakes be maintained and a bill to secure the uniform grading of fur, preventing deception in transactions in fur, and regulating traffic in fur.

Mrs. A. K. Root, postmaster at Cham Falls, may get that $25,000 compensation for the injuries she received nearly 14 years ago which put her in a wheel chair. A large box of mail was dropped on her foot while she was working in the post office.

STICKERS

The above sketch can be divided, by two straight lines, so as to make two pieces of one pattern, the same size and shape, and two pieces of another pattern, also the same size and shape. Can you do it?

Yesterday's Stickler Solved

Jones entered the store with $99.98. Half of that would be $49.99, or just as many cents as he originally had dollars and half as many dollars as he originally had cents.

This bill was favorably reported and might have been passed by the house on the final day of the session had Rep. Peavey been here to explain it to inquiring congressmen. He had gone home, and its passage was blocked. It remains on the calendar and may go through both the House and the Senate this short session, if Rep. Peavey pushes it and it doesn't get lost in the jam that comes at the end of every short session.

Rep. Peavey has one other private bill on the calendar and has introduced four other private bills which have not been reported from committees.

U. S. DIET CHANGE COULD BRING RUIN TO SOME COUNTRIES

Coffee and Tea Demand in United States Provides Big Business

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press Washington—(CPA) If the people of the United States suddenly were to change their habits of diet, it might bring irreparable ruin to nations in the far corners of the earth.

To a large extent the prosperity of many Central and South American countries is dependent on the amount of coffee consumed this year and next year by the people of the United States, while to lose those same citizens as tea customers would entail disaster to India, China, Japan and the Orient.

Since the days of the old tea clipper, the price of the American merchant marine, trade with the Orient has numbered tea among the major commodities.

It is estimated that the average consumption of coffee in America in 1930 will be around 9 pounds per person. This figure is arrived at through reports of the amount of coffee roasted and ground in this country. It does not represent the sales from retail stores but closely approximates them. The amount ground and roasted will exceed 1,000,000 pounds this year. The retail value of the product at an average of 35 cents a pound would therefore be above $350,000,000.

DEPENDENT ON COFFEE

There are at least seven Latin American countries which are dependent to some extent on the sale of coffee, but so long as the fragrant beverage continues to pass in such streams down American throats they have something to count upon. There are huge stocks in Brazil, Colombia and other countries today and the new crops seem likely to be large. However, there is no likelihood of a diminution in consumption, and a return to prosperity is declared to depend on equalizing supplies to demand.

The people of the United States are not such extensive tea drinkers as some other nations, notably Great Britain, Canada and Australia, but a huge amount is consumed here. Normally tea is a commodity which is handled at a profit in retail stores but the political unrest in the Orient and the drop in silver incident to heavy stocks and the placing of India on a gold basis have disrupted the tea market, which is peculiarly susceptible to changes in rates of foreign exchange for the producer.

Tea sales in the United States represent from two-tenths of one per cent to one-half of one per cent of the total sales of grocery stores. The difficulties faced by the retailer seem to be due to failure to standardize brands and packages. It is suggested by a government survey in one city that the half pound package is the best seller. The stores examined, however, were handling 89 separate items, of which fewer than 30 yielded a profit. The number of brands has increased even faster than tea drinkers.

Susceptibility to alterations in foreign exchanges also is noticeable in the trade in spices. Something like $5,000,000 pounds of spices will be ground in this country this year by the 900 odd establishments engaged wholly or partly in that trade, while jobbers and retailers will grind an additional tonnage for their own or other retail units. The value of these commodities, practically all of which come from far off countries, will approximately $20,000,000.

COMMON COUNCIL READY TO OPEN UP INCINERATOR BIDS

Data Expected to Be Turned Over to Special Committee

Incinerator bids will be opened at the meeting of the common council Wednesday night, probably will be turned over to the incinerator committee. A great deal of investigation and communication with incinerator companies will be necessary before a bid is accepted.

It is probable that garbage disposal will take up a considerable amount of the time Wednesday night. A petition protesting the location of the plant within the city limits will be presented, and perhaps various methods of disposing of city garbage, other than through the construction of an incinerator, will be discussed.

Another petition signed by seven residents of the Third ward will also be read. The document asks the council to take steps to abolish the refuse dump on the east side of Pierce park opposite the foot of W. Front-st. The dump, which has existed for a number of years, is considered a great eyesore by residents and passersby, and inasmuch as it is infested with rats and vermin, it is highly unsanitary.

The repeal of the ordinance prohibiting a left turn at the corner of Oneida-st and College-ave will be considered, and the smoke ordinance will be up for final action.

Get Breath at Once "Never got such quick relief from Asthma until I used KONDON'S Catarrhal Jelly," writes Mrs. N. McCarthy, New York. "KONDON'S gave mother her first night of free breathing in years," writes Miss E. T. Pittsburgh. Just put KONDON'S in nose. Gives you your breath at once. Ends gasping, suffocation, tightness in chest. Lie back, sleep fine without fear. KONDON'S prescribed for 40 years by doctors because it opens breathing passages so quick. KONDON'S at all druggists.
